ISLAND SOLD AFTER ELECTION

Peculiar Deal Put Through by Late Government in Dying Days—Involves Control of Great Water Power

HON. WM. HARTY SUPPOSED TO BENEFIT

New Minister of Public Works Orders Suspension of the Transaction Until After His Return to Department

OTTAWA, Oct. 11.—Victoria island, close to Chats falls in the Ottawa river, thirty miles from Ottawa, has been sold. Thereby is said to hang a tale which is a sequel to the story of Hon. William Harty's control of a part of the enormous water power at the Chats. The islands which give him this partial control were alienated years ago by the province of Ontario during the Liberal regime. They have since then very greatly increased in value. The falls are situated immediately above Fitzroy harbor, and extend from island to island across the river. The city of Ottawa has had an eye on this power but the party control was found insufficient to back it. Victoria island has been counted upon as the key to the power situation. It belonged to the crown. Mr. Hardy is said to want the island in order to tighten his grip. Negotiations were opened with the department of public works for the sale of the island to Mr. D. O'Connor of Ottawa. The O'Connor-Hardy connection was not revealed, if any. The proposal was considered by the Liberal government after the election, and the island sold to Mr. O'Connor, fourteen acres, at $100 an acre.

The recommendation to the Liberal cabinet has not yet been returned to the public works department. In the meantime, Hon. F. D. Monk, the new minister, has given instructions that nothing be proceeded with until his return.

Hon. William Pugsley in conversation today freely admitted that the island had been disposed of for the sum named. The property, he said, was of no use to crown as an island. He denied that the sale carried power privileges with it, but admitted that the possession of the island was an important step in controlling the falls power. What the new government will do with the sale remains to be seen.

UNITED WIRELESS

Inquiry by Trustee Shows that Officials of Company Profited Largely by Sale of Stock

SEATTLE, Oct. 11.—George H. Parker obtained $1,300,000 from the sale of stocks in the United Wireless Telegraph company, and appropriated the money to his own use, according to a supplemental complaint filed in the King county superior court today by Seldon Bacon of New York, federal trustee in bankruptcy of the wireless company.

This money, the complaint states, was obtained between July, 1907, and March, 1911. During the same period approximately $4,000,000 was collected from stock sales by the selling forces. Of this amount $900,000 reached the company, the remainder being divided among Parker, Christopher C. Wilson and other high officials of the company. Parker is now serving a five-year sentence in the federal prison on McNeil's Island, Wash., for using the mails to defraud.

Parker did not dissipate his share of the proceeds, but invested in Seattle real estate and mortgages. The trustee has found between $600,000 and $700,000 worth of such property belonging to Parker, and has tied it up by an injunction pending the hearing of the suit for an accounting and the turning over of the property to the trustee in bankruptcy.

BUILDING C.N.P.

Contract for Building Forty Miles on Vancouver Island to be Let Shortly

VANCOUVER, Oct. 11.—The Canadian Northern railway will shortly call for tenders for the construction of 40 additional miles of the Vancouver Island line, 60 miles of which is now being built northward from Victoria.

The section to be awarded will extend from Mile 60 to Mile 100, at the northwest corner of Cowichan Lake, near the summit. It will include some heavy work. Part of this section will follow the Cowichan river some distance. The line has already been located to Alberni, a point 53 miles from the Cowichan summit. It will traverse numerous timber limits.

Messrs. More & Pethrick, of Victoria, have completed their contract for clearing 800 acres of Port Mann townsite, which will be placed on the market early in December. The night skies are illuminated by the flare of burning heaps of logs and stumps.

Will Meet in Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Oct. 11.—C. J. Brown, city clerk and W. F. Tallman, street commissioner, returned after attending a conference of the League of American Municipalities, held at Atlanta, and secured Winnipeg as the location for the 1913 conference. They told the delegates they would see a city in the making, and referred to the city power plant and various other phases of the city activity. Winnipeg lost next year's convention to Buffalo by three votes.

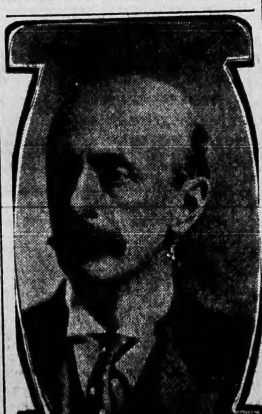

New Japanese Ambassador

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Viscount Sutemi Chinda, who it is reported, will succeed Viscount Uchida as Japanese ambassador at Washington, has not yet been named to the United States government, following the custom of ascertaining whether a diplomatic selection is acceptable. The Japanese embassy here today had not been advised of the selection. Viscount Chinda is favorably known here. Having graduated from an Indiana college, he is thoroughly acquainted with American affairs. He is 67 years of age.

ARRANGEMENT OF ARMISTICE

TROOPS ARE LANDED AT TRIPOLI

Italy Denies Reports Supposed to Be Sent Out for Purpose of Creating Feeling Against Her Plans

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—The armistice between Italy and Turkey for which German diplomacy has been striving for some time, it is believed here, virtually has been concluded, although not yet announced as "official."

It is understood that the transportation of the Italian military expedition will not be interfered with, but that hostilities in all quarters will cease. This is considered in Berlin as equivalent to the ending of the war, or at least the warlike movements, which will be succeeded now by negotiations looking to a settlement. It is regarded as probable that as soon as the strong Italian army has disembarked at Tripoli, even the Young Turks will begin to recognize, as apparently the Ottoman government already does, that there is no hope of withholding Tripoli from Italy.

Then it will be possible for Turkey to enter into peace negotiations with the prospect of reaching a less unsatisfactory conclusion than would result from a continuation of the conflict.

Hostile Reports

ROME, Oct. 11.—Via frontier—There is a feeling in official circles here that Turkey and her sympathizers, as well as those elements that are antagonistic to Italy, are doing everything possible to engender opposition to Italy's plans among the powers, and it is believed that certain reports that have been circulated, aim chiefly to play on Anglo-German antagonisms.

With this object, it is supposed, the report has been spread that Germany, having planned to obtain Tobruk from Turkey, prior to the beginning of hostilities, will end by securing this important strategic point from Italy as a base of operations in the Mediterranean.

These reports are officially denied by Italy. It is pointed out by Italian officials that Germany has never taken any steps in such a direction in the past, and has no intention to ask anything from Italy in the future, while it is also said that Italy would not dream of being a catspaw to draw chestnuts from the fire for Germany, notwithstanding the alliance.

In connection with this denial, it is said the entire situation is unchanged, that none of the powers oppose Italy's action, and that they have no intention of intervening until Italian dominion in Tripoli is indisputable.

Advices from Tripoli sent by Rear-Admiral Boread D'Olmo, the governor, and Captain Cagni, the commandant, say the sailors now in possession of the city have given remarkable proof of their powers of resistance and endurance.

It is believed that the Turkish troops are thoroughly disheartened, as otherwise, being only one day's march from Tripoli, and twice outnumbering the Italians, they might have attempted to recapture the

RAILWAYS JOIN IN ENTERPRISE

Will Purchase Land in St. Boniface for Stockyards and Warehouses to Be Used in Meat Trade

G.T.P. RAILWAY IGNORES MACHINISTS

WINNIPEG, Oct. 11.—After two years' negotiations, the three western Canadian railroads, the C. P. R., C. N. R. and G. T. P., have agreed on the purchase of 215 acres in St. Boniface, across the river from Winnipeg, on which they will proceed to erect stockyards, abattoir and cold storage warehouses, at a cost of five millions. The Manitoba government will aid to the extent of a quarter of a million dollars.

That the G. T. P. railway has no intention to negotiate further with its striking machinists and boilermakers is made evident by the insertion of large advertisements in the daily papers by the company, calling for mechanics to fill the places of strikers, and by the company continuing to ignore all requests of the men to appoint a member on the conciliation board.

F. V. CLARKE ACQUITTED

Vancouver Jury Finds Prince Rupert Man not Guilty on Charge of Forgery

VANCOUVER, Oct. 11.—Frederick V. Clarke was honorably acquitted by the Assize jury yesterday evening of the charge of forgery in connection with a post office money order sent to C. S. Wormwald from Newcastle-on-Tyne. The circumstances were described in these columns yesterday.

Clarke was in the witness box yesterday afternoon. He answered both the questions of his counsel, Mr. S. S. Taylor, K.C., and of the crown prosecutor with apparent candor and truthfulness, and his demeanor in the box was the subject of favorable comment from the bench. The crown put in the evidence of two experts earlier in the day in an endeavor to prove that the handwriting of the accused was the same as that of the man who forged the signature to the money order receipts. Mr. Taylor hotly cross-examined these witnesses and showed how easy it was to detect similarities in the writing of any two individuals.

Coble Murder Case

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 11.—The state rested today in the trial of George H. Wilson, the section foreman accused of the murder of Mrs. Nettie Coble and her husband at Rainier, last July. Two physicians called by the prosecution, testified that the man who committed the murder must have been insane. The defense is combatting the insanity theory. As soon as the state rested the defense sought to have stricken from the record the evidence concerning the alleged confession of Wilson. A motion was also made to have the case dismissed. Judge Mitchell, who is presiding at the trial, took the motions under advisement, and will give his decision on Friday, tomorrow, Columbus day, being a legal holiday.

Morocco Negotiations

PARIS, Oct. 11.—The foreign minister, M. De Selves, sent tonight to the French ambassador at Berlin the instructions drawn up at yesterday's cabinet meeting, relative to the second part of the Moroccan negotiations. They concern the territorial compensation to Germany.

TARIFF CHANGES OUGHT TO WAIT

Position Taken by Canadian Manufacturers' Association—Establishment of Tariff Commission Is Favored

TORONTO, Oct. 11.—The Canadian Manufacturers' association this morning discussed the tariff question at great length and placed themselves on record as favoring the appointment of a tariff commission by the new government, but it declined to commit the association to any specific tariff changes, the members expressing the opinion that it would be unwise to embarrass the incoming administration at Ottawa by any pronouncement at this time.

A resolution, subsequently withdrawn, was introduced suggesting that the government be asked to make the British preference the flat rate of 33 1-3 per cent.

Draw Color Line

REGINA, Sask., Oct. 11.—City restaurants have decided to draw the color line, and in the future all blacks, Japanese or Chinese patrons will pay just double what their white brothers are charged. This is not a money-making venture, but a polite hint to these people that their patronage is not wanted. It is an innovation in the running of the cafes and restaurants of the city, and the experiment will be watched with interest. Should the change prove profitable the hotels will follow suit.

LARGE PROJECT OF METHODISM

Proposal Is Laid Before Ecumenical Conference to Institute Practically World's Welfare Commission

FIFTY MEMBERS FROM EACH DIVISION

Resolution Arises Out of Discussion on "Church and Social Service"—Action Is Postponed

TORONTO, Oct. 11.—Divorce, socialism, labor unions and wealth were some of the subjects concerning which emphatic opinions were expressed by speakers at the session of the Ecumenical Methodist conference in this city today.

The general topic in hand was "The Church and social service." In connection with consideration of its various phases, a novel proposition was made to nearly 500 delegates, in the form of a resolution offered by the business committee, calling for the creation of what would be practically a world's welfare commission.

Action on the matter was deferred, but the expectation is that before the close of the present conference there will be created a permanent international Methodist commission, composed of fifty delegates from the eastern division and an equal number from the western division to gather information respecting the various Methodist churches and their problems, to promote closer union between them, to continue the ecumenical relations of the various branches of Methodism that the results of conferences may be conserved, and to forward great moral causes, including the promotion of international peace.

Sir Robert Perks, of London, Eng., said of the plan: "Had such an alliance existed in the past, war might have been prevented in one or two instances. The influence for good of our thirty-three millions of Methodists, thus united, is beyond computation. It would be the greatest world power."

RODGERS' FLIGHT

Passes Kansas City on His Way from Ocean to Ocean—Has now Travelled 1482 Miles

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 11.—Calbraith P. Rodgers, the trans-continental flyer, is tonight at Overland Park, nine miles southwest of Kansas City. He has traveled 1,482 miles on his coast-to-coast flight.

He circles this city today and landed at Swope Park. Taking to the air again at 4:25 o'clock, the aviator flew to the aviation field at Overland Park, alighting at 4:55. Overland Park is in Johnson county, Kansas. Rodgers will remain there until Friday afternoon to adjust his engine, which is in need of repairs.

Rodgers began his flight today at Marshall, 84 miles from Kansas City, at 8:24 a. m. He was forced to descend at Blue Springs at 9:50 o'clock because of trouble with his magneto. The aviator lost an hour there, and arising at 10:56, he came to Kansas City. Rodgers will take the tracks of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad to San Antonio, Tex., when he starts on Friday, and will thence follow the Southern Pacific route to California.

ANCIENT CAPITAL BIDS GODSPEED

Their Excellencies Earl and Lady Grey Entertained by Government and City on Eve of Departure

PARTY TO LEAVE QUEBEC AT NOON

QUEBEC, Oct. 11.—Earl Grey was given a most affectionate send-off at the city hall tonight. His Excellency and Lady Grey and party arrived this morning by special train. The party were entertained at luncheon at Spencerwood this afternoon by the Lieutenant Governor and members of the provincial cabinet.

This evening there was a great gathering of citizens at the city hall, when His Excellency was the recipient of a civic address and a gift from the citizens of the Ancient Capital. The gift was a replica of the Wolfe and Montcalm monument. In his address Mayor Drouin made mention of the brilliant career of His Excellency in Canada, which was appreciated by all classes of the population.

Earl Grey made a very touching reply, speaking in French.

Earl Grey and party will leave Quebec at noon tomorrow and will meet the Duke of Connaught on his way up the river.

ENDS HIS LIFE

Andrew Beveridge, Young Miner at Extension, Shoots Himself in Despondent Mood

NANAIMO, Oct. 11.—Andrew Beveridge, a young man residing at Extension, B. C., committed suicide last evening in his cabin at that place by placing the muzzle of a revolver to his right temple, pulling the trigger and sending a bullet through his brain. Despondency is mentioned as the cause of his act.

Beveridge, who was a native of Scotland and but 21 years of age, has been a resident of this district for a short time. He was employed in the Extension mines up to the 13th of last month, when he left his employment, since which time he has been in a more or less despondent state of mind. Shortly after supper last evening Beveridge wrote two letters, posted them, returned to the cabin and for several minutes took part in a conversation with his baching partner, Geo. Mitchell, and a friend, Sidney Gordon. Leaving the two in the kitchen, Beveridge walked into an adjoining room, and shortly afterwards Mitchell and Gordon heard a shot. Entering the room whence the report came, they found the body of Beveridge lying across the bed, his hand still clutching the smoking weapon, and terrible wounds in the head, life being extinct.

Dr. Fowler of Extension notified Mr. John Shaw of this city, who was acquainted with deceased. Mr. Shaw made arrangements to have the body removed to Nanaimo, where it now lies, pending funeral arrangements which are being made.

Portuguese Royalists

BRAGANZA, Portugal, Oct. 11.—It is very difficult to obtain reliable information concerning the positions and movements of the royalists, but it appears they are operating at small towns along the frontier. Lieutenant Ramirez, who, with a detachment of republican cavalry, has explored the whole region, declares that the bulk of the royalists have retired across the frontier and are now in Spain.

TRAGEDY OF UP-TURNED BOAT

Three Residents of Thetis Island and Believed to Have Been Drowned in Sansome Narrows

The finding of an up-turned boat at Burgoyne bay, Salt Spring island, brought to light what is believed to have been a tragedy in which three popular residents of Thetis island, Mr. Charles Heneage, cousin of Rev. and Hon. T. R. Heneage of this city; Mr. Lambert and Mr. Harvey, are believed to have lost their lives.

The three are supposed to have left Thetis island to attend the fall fair at Duncan, making the trip in a small boat. They set out on their return, but no further word from them has been heard, and with the exception of the finding of the boat no trace of them has been secured. The boat was found on September 25. Apparently the three young men had started on their return across Sansome Narrows and were capsized.

For the past week or two the accident had been rumored, but no definite information had been received by Rev. Mr. Heneage until yesterday when he received a telegram from Provincial Constable Halhed, of Duncan, telling of the reported accident. A reward has been offered for the recovery of the bodies.

The three young men were engaged in ranching on Thetis island, Mr. Heneage being with Capt. Rothwell, Mr. Lambert with Mr. Nixon and Mr. Harvey with Mr. Burchell.

Much sympathy will be felt with the Rev. Mr. Heneage by his many Victoria friends.

Member Seriously Ill

MONTREAL, Oct. 11.—D. A. Lafortune, K.C., crown prosecutor, for the district of Montreal, and representative of the county of Montcalm in the house of commons, was this afternoon moved to Victoria hospital from his residence at St. Laurent. Mr. Lafortune contracted a cold during the recent campaign which later developed into acute pneumonia.

BYE-ELECTIONS FOR MINISTERS

Writs to Be Isued Today In Cases of Ten Who Were Elected on September 21—Nominations October 25

POSSIBLE SEATS FOR TWO OTHERS

Arranging for Payment of Salaries of Civic Servants—Ontario Elections to Be Held Early in December

OTTAWA, Oct. 11—Writs will be issued tomorrow for ten bye-elections in the constituencies represented by those members of the Borden government who were elected on Sept. 21 and have been assigned portfolios. They include Hon. Messrs. Borden, Monk, Doherty, Pelletier, Nantel, Foster, Reid, Crothers, Roche, and Hughes. Nominations will be held on October 25 and elections on November 1, if there are to be contests. This much was decided upon at today's cabinet council, and tomorrow the order in council goes to the clerk of the crown in chanery.

Nothing has been determined as to the seats to be ocupied by Messrs. Hazen, Cochrane, White and Rogers. The probability is that Mr. Hazen will take the St. John city and county seat. There is talk of Dr. Daniel going to the senate. It is also pretty well understood that Hon. Robert Rogers will sit for a Manitoba constituency, and will not move into Saskatchewan. It is said that he has been offered the Winnipeg seat now held by Alex Haggart. There is a vacant senatorship in Manitoba since the death of Senator Chevrier, and it might go to Mr. Haggart, although it has been regarded as a French appointment, and Hon. A. O. Lariviere, former member for Provencher, is mentioned for it.

There is good news today for the civil service. The failure of the late government to proceed with supply before the dissolution left some departments of the service absolutely without money for salaries after the first of September. The 15th of September was pay day, but in these departments there was no money and some employees have been forced to get money at high rates of interest. The announcement is made tonight that at the next meeting of the cabinet, probably next Monday, the matter of providing funds for the payment of the officials will be taken up.

The new treasury board has been appointed, and held an informal meeting this afternoon. It will not do business until next week, for the reason that the appointment must first be formally sanctioned by the governor. The board includes the ministers of finance, trade and commerce, public works, justice, interior and railways.

It is expected that the new parliament will meet on Wednesday, Nov. 15.

HARBOR DEVELOPMENT TO BE CONSIDERED

Programme of Extension to Meet Growing Need of This Port Will Occupy Board of Trade

Great interest attaches to the quarterly general meeting of the Victoria board of trade, which is to be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, for the reason that consideration will be given to a matter of vital importance to the future of this city—namely, that of harbor improvements. The meeting will have before it for discussion a report from the special committee on harbor works in which the whole question is dealt with exhaustively. It is hoped, in consequence, that there will be a very large and representative attendance of members.

It may be interesting to mention in this connection that the question of the improvement of the outer harbor by the construction of a breakwater from Brotchie ledge first engaged attention of the board many years ago, when representations were made to the federal government on the matter. Now, however, that recent developments in the field of ocean-borne commerce seeking these waters have made the subject of live and pressing interest, the board feels that the time is ripe for the renewal of the agitation looking to the construction of works which are imperative if Victoria is to reach the position to which she is entitled among the ports of the Pacific coast.

The report will recite all the efforts which have been expended in the past in the direction of getting the needed improvements and set out a working plan to the end that success may be speedily attained. As a preliminary step it is proposed, it is understood, that a survey of the waters adjacent to the outer wharf be made by one of the most eminent harbor engineers in the world, as a preliminary to asking the federal government for the necessary appropriation.

A number of other matters will also come up for consideration at tomorrow afternoon's meeting of the board. It had been anticipated that there would be available for consideration a report from the special committee on the matter of compulsory pilotage at this port, but owing to the fact that the committee wishes a little further time to prepare its recommendations, this report will not be available. It is anticipated, however, that the report on the proposed harbor improvements will prove of such an important character as to fully occupy the attention of the meeting, even should there be no other business presented.

ADVOCATES FREE TRADE AND SINGLE TAX

Well-Known Economist Gives Lucid Explanation of Principles Involved in Henry George Doctrine

"I would tax out the non-users and tax in the users. Single tax means one tax on ground values. Its application means a decline in prices, the discouragement of speculation, and the placing of property within reach of hundreds where now it is available to but ten."

In these terms Mr. Henry George, Jr., the son of the celebrated author of "Progress and Poverty," and the most ardent living disciple of the political philosophy there set forth, illustrated the interesting theory. He was attentively listened to by a fair-sized crowd at Institute Hall. Mayor Morley occupied the chair, word having been received from Premier McBride regretting his inability, owing to a previous engagement, to do himself the honor of accepting the invitation of the Victoria Henry George association to preside.

It was doubly a pleasure, said Mr. Henry George, to find himself before a Victoria audience, because it gave him an opportunity to talk about what he was devoting his energies to to the residents of a community which once had been home to his father. The late Henry George, he said, came to this city in '59. He had travelled from Philadelphia around the Horn. In common with many others he was in search of gold. Finding none in California he had hurried on to British Columbia, passing through this city en route to the Cariboo. Of course he had got none there. (Laughter). Returning, he had opened a canvass roofed store here. It was his (the speaker's) opinion that the influences he encountered in Victoria were responsible, to a large extent, for the birth in his father's mind of the theories expounded in "Progress and Poverty."

"Applied Christianity"

Single tax meant applied Christianity. The basis and the kernel of the question was that of eternal justice. It meant one tax. Asked whether he believed in the theory a certain United States editor said: "Sure, I believe in all kinds of taxes." (Laughter). When thinking of the number, of the infinite variety of taxes, he became confused. The list of methods adopted for the hampering of man was astounding. Man had hunted high and hunted low for devices through which to tax man. "You have a variety here," exclaimed Mr. George, "and the most foolish is that poll tax." (Laughter and applause). "I think [illegible] will have short shift. Then there was the license tax. In the main it was a mistake. For the purpose of getting rid of that which was undesirable it might be justified. But what sense was there in the taxing of a chimney sweep or a boot-black?

"Here I must make a confession. I am a free trader," continued the speaker. "Not the humbug, compromising kind of a free trader. I believe in the abolition of the custom house. And, confidentially, I had something to do with reciprocity" (Laughter). "I'm a member of congress. Oh, I'm not proud of it. That doesn't do you know. You know the classification of members of the body. He who is returned a first time is 'a political accident.' If he is fortunate enough to get back a second time he is 'a returned member.' Should he be fortunate enough to be endorsed a third time he becomes 'a politician,' and not until he is dead is he 'a statesman.'" (Laughter). "I voted for reciprocity," continued Mr. George. "I forget how the vote went here. I'm badly twisted." (More laughter).

CHILLY RESPONSE HOLDS UP MEASURE

Early Submission to Ratepayers of the Latest Civic Centre Scheme Is Altogether Unlikely

With the initial show of hostility towards the proposed civic centre scheme so earnestly advocated by Mayor Morley at recent meetings of the city council it is altogether probable that nothing further will be heard of the proposal for some time at least. It is likely that if the measure comes before the ratepayers at all it will not be until the civic elections to be held in January next. Certainly the chances of its being submitted for public approval at an early date, as was the desire of the mayor, are slim.

Yesterday, His Worship, it is rumored, decided that no further effort for the present should be taken to secure the necessary signatures to the petition which in all cases of money bylaws must be signed by property owners in the aggregate of one-tenth of the assessed property values as shown on the last assessment roll, before such bylaws can be submitted.

This petition was recently circulated but of the forty-two owners approached for their signatures but four signed and of these two did so for the purpose of bringing the bylaw before the ratepayers and not because they approved of the scheme.

The latest proposed location for the new city hall, the property situated on the elevated land at the extreme easterly end of the Pandora avenue gore, is apparently not one favored by the ratepayers, if the attitude of those requested to sign the preliminary petition can be taken as any indication of the true feeling.

STORM IN MONTANA

Snow Piled in Great Drifts by Fierce Gales—Railways and Telegraph Lines Suffer

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct. 11.—Dispatches received tonight at the general offices of the Oregon Short Line from the company's linemen, who have been battling all day against a terrific blizzard in southwestern Montana, paint a gloomy picture of conditions in that section. Snow, wet and heavy, piling in huge drifts before fierce gales, miles of telephone and telegraph wires disarranged, poles uprooted and leveled, and light and power plants paralyzed, is the substance of the news at hand.

At Butte, Mont., the centre of the storm, the situation is believed to verge on demoralization. Streets and sidewalks have been obstructed by the unprecedented fall of snow, street car service is annulled and all business has practically been suspended. Since nine o'clock last night, when all wire communication with the city was severed, no definite word has come to indicate the real extent of the damage wrought.

However, the railroads report that the snow lies to a depth of two and a half feet on the level, with the high wind causing drifts in many places to a depth of several feet.

The Short Line offices have reports tonight of delayed trains on the Pocatello, Idaho, division, but traffic generally on the line has not been seriously hampered.

JUSTICE FOR WEST

Liberal Paper Points to Rectification of Fault of Laurier Government by New Premier

WINNIPEG, Oct. 11.—The Free Press said today:

"It is a matter for deep satisfaction that Mr. Borden in forming his government has recognized the political potentialities of the West by giving it increased representation in the cabinet. There will be three western ministers with portfolios and one without in the Borden administration.

"The Free Press regrets that the Laurier government did not secure for itself the credit of being the first to admit the right of the west to enlarged cabinet representation. When it took office the West had but one cabinet minister. The number was increased to two, ten years ago, but further necessary increases were not granted.

"It will be recalled that the Free Press urged repeatedly that each of the four western provinces be given cabinet representation. It can not be said that failure to meet these requests had any political consequences in the late election sufficient to affect the result; nevertheless the Laurier government lost an opportunity to show itself alert to the needs and requirements of the West in this important particular.

"The probabilities are that the choice of Mr. Martin Burrell as minister of agriculture will be amply justified by results. Mr. Burrell has many qualifications for this high office."

The second anniversary of the great explosion at Extension mines was marked by solemn requiem mass, celebrated by Rev. Fr. Nicolaye.

The Skeena river is reported to be falling rapidly and navigation for the season is at an end.

LOS ANGELES TRIAL BEGINS

Prosecution Elects to Have James B. McNamara First Face Jury—Work of Selecting Jurors Continues

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—James McNamara went on trial for murder here today before Judge Walter Bordwell in the superior court amid circumstances as austere and simple as proverbial Western justice. District Attorney John D. Fredericks for the prosecution elected to try him for the murder of Charles Haggerty, a machinist, who, with 20 other men met death in an explosion and fire which wrecked the Los Angeles Times building October 1, 1910.

This case was picked from 19 indictments for murder found against the prisoner, his brother, John J. McNamara secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, William Caplan and M. A. Schmidt, both at large; and four unidentified persons specified as John Doe, Jane Doe, Richard Doe and John Stites, because Haggerty's body was found nearest the spot at which the explosion occurred.

The prosecution contends that the explosion was caused by dynamite, the defense that it was caused by gas.

The new Hall of Records, in which the trial is being held, is only a stone's throw from the scene of the catastrophe. This was the setting of the legal stage today. Upon it counsel for the defense, headed by Attorney Clarence S. Darrow of Chicago, in questions to the jury and arguments to Judge Bordwell sought to depict a mighty contest between organized labor and its opponents, without much opposition from the prosecution.

Attorney Lecompte Davis, examining jurors, headed straight for this point.

"Are you aware that there is a bitter warfare between capital and labor?" he asked Z. T. Nelson, the first venireman examined.

"Yes," said Nelson.

"And that most men have taken sides?"

"Yes."

"Have you the opinion that labor unions as they exist are proper, or that they are inimical and a menace?"

To this the prosecution objected because "counsel was asking the opinion of the witness on evidence that may arise during the trial."

"He may answer," said Judge Bordwell, and Nelson said he was "not prejudiced."

Further questions were met by the assertion from Attorney W. J. Ford of the prosecution that "this is not a union labor trial."

"Do you take the Los Angeles Times?" and "Do you read the weekly page devoted to animadversions on labor?" were other questions put.

Nelson was still on the stand when court adjourned.

It was not until court opened today that the defense could make formal demand for separate trials for James J. McNamara and his brother John. Hence the brothers, handcuffed together, were taken to court. All Los Angeles knew about this, but when seven deputy sheriffs besides the jailer and an assistant left the jail with the prisoners they found an empty street, except for newspaper photographers and a few stray spectators. In the court room, where only a moderate crowd of spectators gathered, the formal opening of the case was not heard ten feet from the bar.

"Case 6939—James B. McNamara," said someone casually, after District Attorney Fredericks had announced his selection, and the great trial was on.

Tomorrow is a state holiday, and no session of the court will be held.

Montreal Board of Trade

MONTREAL, Oct. 11.—At a meeting of the board of trade council this afternoon a draft petition was presented praying the provincial government to substantially reduce the tax on commercial corporations. This was approved for presentation when a deputation of the council will join the Canadian Manufacturers' association in urging a reduction of the tax. The council renewed consideration of the questions of how trade between Canada and the West Indies and Cuba might be increased, and it was thought that the first step should be to secure a reduction in postage and cable rates. The latter was referred to a committee.

BID FAREWELL TO HIS LORDSHIP

Bishop Perrin Is Recipient of Address and Presentation—Many Attend Ceremony at Alexandra Club

Memorable indeed was the gathering held last evening in the ballroom fo the Alexandra club when Right Rev. Bishop Perrin took farewell of a large number of the members of the diocese. The beautiful room was handsomely decorated in honor of the occasion, and during the evening an orchestra rendered a number of well known airs. The playing of the National Anthem heralded the entrance of his honor, the Lieutenant-Governor, who was accompanied by Mrs. Paterson, handsome and dignified in a black sequin gown.

A beautifully illuminated address was presented to the bishop on behalf of the diocese by Ven. Archdeacon Scriven. In making the presentation the archdeacon said this was not only the official farewell of the church, but of all the bishop's friends, the wide circle of which included Victoria and elsewhere. All of them felt that night that they were not so much saying good-bye to their bishop as to a friend—one who had been a real friend to many of them. He himself had been almost inclined to think of him more as a friend and a brother than as a bishop, and he thought that was the feeling in the hearts of most of them that evening. In less than two days they would see him no more.

He then called on Rev. J. H. S. Sweet to read the address which ran as follows:

Text of Address

"To the Right Rev. William Perrin, Lord Bishop of British Columbia:

"We, the clergy and laity of the diocese of British Columbia, take this opportunity of taking an affectionate farewell of your lordship, on the eve of your departure to take up the important work in London to which you have been recently appointed. Our feelings on this occasion are of a mixed nature. We congratulate your lordship on your appointment as Bishop of Willesden and are fully conscious of the honor thus incidentally bestowed upon this diocese; nevertheless it is with a feeling of regret and sorrow that we learn that we are to be deprived of your loving care and wise and judicious oversight of the work in this portion of the Lord's vineyard.

"During eighteen years we have had the privilege of your hopeful enthusiasm and practical insight into all that make for the best interest of the church in this diocese. Your genial and kindly disposition, your unfailing energy and wisdom of administration have been largely instrumental in placing this diocese in the satisfactory position in which it stands at present. Your advocacy of all that tends to promote the work of God, your loving unselfishness and singleness of mind in devotion to the cause of Christ, will be cherished in our memories with the deepest reverie. We acknowledge with gratitude that you have done much to increase the principle of reverence and devotion to the worship of Almighty God, and much also to deepen the spiritual life of the clergy and laity in the diocese.

"We close with a very sincere expression of our effectionate regard and esteem, and with the promise that our prayers shall follow you in the important work to which we do not doubt you have been called by God."

A. T. Doull, Dean of Columbia; Austin Scriven, Archdeacon of Vancouver; Ludley Crease, Chancellor; J. H. S. Sweet, Clerical Secretary; Percy Wollaston, Treasurer; Fred W. Blankenbach, Lay Secretary.

Happiest of Homes

In replying Bishop Perrin said that even now he found it difficult to realize the fact that he was going away. He valued the words of the Archdeacon very much indeed. They had indeed been friends, and during all those years he couldn't remember that they had had a single difference. He knew what was in their hearts that evening, and they might be sure that their feelings were reciprocated. The words of the address read by Rev. Mr. Sweet had made him feel humble—had made him feel how very little he had done. His life during his eighteen years' residence in Victoria had been a very happy one, and British Columbia would always remain in his memory as the happiest of homes.

His Lordship made a characteristically humorous reference to Bishopclose which provoked much merriment. If Victoria could only be buried for a thousand years as was Pompeii, and the ground covered with ashes, he prophesied that great discoveries would be made, and he could imagine the people saying "What an extraordinary house the Bishop had." And now he was to leave it. When he first walked down the streets of Victoria on his arrival in this city, it had been rather a sad time, for he knew no one, but since then he had made many friends. Very few positions he knew of could be more enjoyable than that of the Bishop of Columbia. All the many kindnesses he had received had made him feel that he was privileged to be able to influence the people in some way.

He dwelt on the difference between the new work to which he was called and the old. If he could be sure that those who called themselves his friends would remember him in their prayers as he did them, he felt sure the burden would be lightened.

Several people had told him that evening that "goodbye" was such a sad word. But he failed to see that, for they all knew that "goodbye" meant "God be with you," and if He was with them, how could it be sad?

Recipient of Presentation

His lordship was also presented with an album containing views of the churches in the diocese, and the signatures of the contributors, and in receiving it from the archdeacon, he referred to the building of the new cathedral, and again urged upon all those present the advisability of building on the old site—"the finest church site in the whole of Canada."

The gathering then broke up into social groups and refreshments were served. For the rest of the evening the bishop's time was taken up in shaking hands with his many friends present, a large number of whom had know him for many years. The reception was brought to a close by the playing of the National Anthem.

Probably no feature of his farewell reception touched and pleased the bishop more than the letter he received during the evening from the Right Rev. Bishop Cridge, the veteran leader of the Reformed Episcopal church, who, unable to be present that evening, "took the opportunity of wishing the bishop Godspeed on his journey."

A noticeable feature of the gathering and one that appealed specially to his lordship, was the presence not only of the Anglican clergy of the city and several from the outlying districts, but also of a large number of the ministers of other churches.

Among those present were: His honor, the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Paterson, Very Rev, the Dean of Columbia and Mrs. Doull, the Ven. Archdeacon of Vancouver and Mrs. Scriven, Rev. W. Barton and Mrs. Barton, Rev. W. Baugh Allen and Mrs. Allen and Miss Allen, Rev. H. A. Collison, Rev. B. G. Miller and Mrs. Miller, Rev. J. H. S. Sweet, Rev. R. Connell, Rev. Mr. Fatt, Rev. and Hon. T. R. Heneage, Rev. Gilbert Cook and Mrs. Cook (Sidney), Rev. J. W. Flinton (Saanich), Mr. J. S. Bastion, Salt Spring Island, Right Rev. Bishop Macdonald, Rev. Dr. Campbell, Rev. T. E. Holling, Rev. Leslie Clay, Rev. T. W. Gladstone, Rev. J. B. Warnicker, Mr. G. H. Barnard, M.P., and many others.

ANNUAL POLICE BALL ON DEC. SIXTH

This Year's Function to be Held in Main Fair Building—Arrangements on Elaborate Scale

A change in the date and place of the third annual police ball has been made by the committee in charge of the arrangements for the event. It was decided to hold the function on Thursday, November 9, at the Alexandra club, but at a meeting held last evening the members of the force determined to fix Wednesday, December 6, as the date, the ball to be held in the main building at the Agricultural Fair grounds. It was found that the ballroom at the Alexandra club was hardly of sufficient capacity. The floor at the exhibition building is amply large enough and the building lends itself to an extensive decoration scheme besides affording ample accommodation for supper room, cloak room, sitting-out rooms, etc. In the past the police members of the force have shown themselves adepts at decorating and the promise is made that this year's event will, from that standpoint, as well as others, easily exceed the two previous annual functions which received unstinted praise from all those who attended.

The following committees have been struck and will immediately undertake their respective duties.

Refreshment—Inspector Perdue, Detectives Carlow and Constable Florence.

Decorations and preparation—Constable Fry (chairman), Sergeant Harper, Sergeant Beckton, Constables Duncan, Barnes, Cremer, Blackstock, H. McDonald, Ireland, Webb, Baxter, Littlefield, Smith, Wright, J. Palmer, Foster, Walton, McLennan, Allison, G. Robinson, Brogan, Taylor, R. Foster, Hastings, H. J. Robinson, Rick and Florence.

Cloak room—Constables Mann, Bradley and Caldwell.

Ticket collection—Sergeant Beckton, Constables G. Foster, Wright, McLennan, G. Robinson and Webb.

Carriages—Constables Farrant, C. McDonald and Roberts.

Master of ceremonies—Senior Sergeant Carson.

As at previous events every attention to the comforts of those attending the ball will be made. A special car service will be arranged for and a covered way from the car platform will be erected so that the guests may go dry shod to the building. Owing to the fact that arrangements will have to be made in order that the proper policing of the city shall not be interfered with the various committees have been made large enough so that when the night's police assignment is made there will be adequate committees on hand to take charge of arrangements.

The G. T. P. will shortly place upon the market the new steamer of Prince Rupert.

A GREAT PROCONSUL

After occupying the position of Governor General for almost seven years Earl Grey leaves Canada today. We recall the first day when he came amongst us and the blithesome joy which he displayed in his office. He came here prepared to make himself one of ourselves. He goes back to England one of the Greatest Canadians of us all. Of all the agencies which contributed to the success of his governor-generalship none are more worthy of note than those inherent characteristics which made him an uplifting force and endeared him to the people throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion. He combined a singular graciousness with absolute sincerity of feeling and truth of statement. His leading purpose was to make the country in which he represented the King great, not only through the utilisation of her natural resources, but also along ethical and physical lines. He has predicted for Canada the destiny of becoming the predominant partner in Empire, a consummation towards which he has undoubtedly played a signal part. Towards this task he brought to bear all the charm of his winning personality and his undoubted wisdom. He has succeeded in broadening the vision of the people of this country and he has imbued them with a sense of their great responsibilities, which they could not have been said to possess before the term of his proconsulship. Summed up in a few words the lesson which he has been endeavoring to teach is that of "individual service." Here is how he has put it himself in one of his most cryptic utterances: "If it was the mission of the last century to establish the principle of individual rights it is the mission of the present century to teach the lesson of individual duty, and the subordination of personal advantages for the more commanding interests of the public good." He told the people to make those ideals their own "which shall require them to esteem honor above success and spirit of sacrifice and service above that of selfishness and greed, and nobility and efficiency rather than the pursuit of pleasure and the gratification of self-indulgence."

Through teachings such as these he leaves behind him a deep seated sense of not only national but imperial obligations. His was the inspiration which has led to the setting aside of the battlefields of Quebec as a public memorial and through the magnificent pageant attending the tercentenary the late governor-general succeeded in awakening in the hearts of the people some realization of the wealth of their heritage. He has contributed largely towards composing national and sectional differences. In every branch of human effort towards which he lent the assistance of his matured thought he did so with an untiring determination in the pursuit of this country's good. Realising in the highest sense the duties of his office he never in any way allowed himself to be drawn into a political controversy. His public life was intellectual, brave, patriotic and inspiring. Attacks have been made upon him because his imperial tendencies were regarded as too pronounced. Here is how he summed up his imperialism himself and we would ask the one or two detractors whom he may have what there is to quarrel with in his statement: "It is because I regard the British empire as the most potent instrument that has ever been fashioned for spreading the blessings of equal rights, of municipal justice, of Christian service and true chivalry, that I regard it as the greatest privilege allowed to any man to proclaim himself a British citizen and to have the power of placing his services at the disposal of his King, who is the visible incarnation of the race."

We say farewell to Earl Grey with feelings of unmixed regret. A great proconsul, a statesman of the wider empire type, he is a man of worth in the broadest sense of the term. We hope that he will not long be left idle for the Empire cannot afford to dispense with the services of men of his calibre.

HARBOR IMPROVEMENTS

The board of trade, at its meeting tomorrow, will discuss a highly important question in the matter of harbor improvements. We understand that it will make some interesting recommendations, and that these will have considerable weight in the framing of any plan for the general betterment of the port in [illegible]. Whatever scheme is eventually adopted it is hoped that it will be conceived on broad lines. Victoria has grown so greatly, and the outlook for her seaborne commerce is of such an optimistic character that an expenditure of several millions, extended as it necessarily must be over a period of several years, is warranted. To put our present harbor into shape for the reception of the ever-growing tonnage, will be no light task, and it is imperative that all details of any scheme should be worked out with the utmost regard to technical detail. To do this we cannot suggest any better method than the appointment of a harbor commission such as exists in Montreal. This commission need not be composed of more than three members. Any larger number would probably prove unwieldy. At the head of the commission should be an expert, who is thoroughly versed in harbors. He must be essentially a big man with a considerable breadth of outlook. The place which Victoria has attained among the ports of the Dominion demands the services of such a man. The Montreal commission has succeeded in greatly improving the dockage facilities at the St. Lawrence port and otherwise increasing the efficiency of the waterways. We believe that a similar commission would work wonders in the harbor here. There is every reason to believe that this port will receive all due consideration from the government, and now is the time to arrange for a definite programme of our requirements so that they can be submitted to the proper authorities as the necessity for their being carried out arises.

There does not seem to be any legitimate objection to the coining of Canadian five-dollar gold pieces. There is little fear of this piece of money being confused with the British sovereign as the latter coin does not circulate in the Dominion. The Canadian gold piece will be always worth its face value, which is fourteen cents more than can be secured for a sovereign. It will not deteriorate from a wearing standpoint, and it will, partially at least, do away with the paper money habit that has been acquired, a habit which will not bear much praise from the standpoint of cleanliness. The new coin will be legal tender in the United States.

The Vancouver papers contain the interesting announcement that Sir John Wolfe Barry has been engaged as the consulting engineer for the construction of the Second Narrows bridge. Sir John has a magnificent record in the engineering world, especially in the province of bridge construction. His coming suggests the idea that it would be a wise move to secure his services in making a report on the desirability and probable cost of bridging Seymour Narrows. It would require some consideration as by whom he should be engaged to make the necessary examination, but there is little doubt that a report, coming from such a source, would be of considerable importance if placed before the Dominion parliament. We commend the idea for what it is worth to the board of trade and the railway interests on the Island.

place, or at least have inflicted serious losses.

It is too late for the Turks to do so, as the first section of the troops of the expedition have landed, and great preparations were made to welcome the Italian soldiers as the liberators of Tripoli from the Turkish yoke for all time.

All the wireless messages received by the government contain information that the transports and their escort of warships are proceeding satisfactorily.

Several alarms last night proved false. These were occasioned by the approach of vessels, which was feared might prove to be the enemy. But investigation disclosed that they were merchantmen, two of them British and a third French.

Slave Trade.

While the Turkish embassies deny the existence of slavery in Tripoli, for the reason—as they set forth—that the Ottoman empire was a signatory to the anti-slavery convention at Brussels, Italian officials declare that, notwithstanding the denial, the fact remains that Tripoli, up to two weeks ago, was the only outlet of the great slave market of Central Africa.

Slavery, they point out, had always in Africa its established seat, as it was allowed by the Koran and approved by usage. Its worst feature in Tripoli was that for each slave who arrived alive on the Mediterranean coast, ten had died while crossing the desert.

Italy, Great Britain and France, wishing to stop the flow of slaves through Tripoli, instructed their consuls to make strong representations against the laxity of the Ottoman officials, but according to the official documents, the traffic continued.

Reports from Tripoli this afternoon say Arabs of the interior are circulating a report that the great Mahdi of the Sahara, having heard of the Italian invasion, is gathering arms and men and trained horsemen, and has proclaimed a holy war which is to be conducted relentlessly until the infidels are driven into the sea.

Troops Are Landed.

TRIPOLI, Oct. 11.—The first transports bearing a portion of the Italian expeditionary forces arrived here today. They were escorted by warships and accompanied by the hospital ship Regina d'Italia. The disembarkation of the troops began immediately.

The batteries of the fleet all through the night shelled the surrounding country, which was swept by the searchlights. Tripoli has nothing more to fear from Turkish attacks.

ROME, Oct. 11.—The first division of the army of occupation arrived at Tripoli at noon today. The troops were safely landed without incident.

Not Known in London.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—No confirmation has yet been received from either Rome or Constantinople of the report from Berlin that an armistice has been arranged. The Turkish cabinet met today with the new foreign minister, Assim Bey, but apparently nothing will be decided pending the assembly of the Turkish parliament on Saturday.

A dispatch to the Mail from Tripoli, dated October 8, says:

"I have heard that a courier, who arrived from [illegible] has asked the Italian governor [illegible] decided, owing to the shortage of provisions, and water and an outbreak of a fever, not to offer further resistance."

The Daily Mail's correspondent at Constantinople says that in an interview the war minister, Shefket Pasha, admitted that the defense of Tripoli was impossible since Turkey had no fleet.

ADVOCATES FREE TRADE AND SINGLE TAX

The tariff wall, the speaker styled a piece of humbug. If the people to the south of the border had goods that those of the north wanted why shouldn't they be sent where they were required unhampered? And if those of the south wanted something those of the north had, who was justified in hindering the trade? It was not a question of nationhood; it was a question of trade between individuals. If trade was not a good thing why not mine your harbor, sell your ships, and go out of business entirely? "Oh, you're not the only, foolish ones," he went on, "We have an idea in the states that we we are protecting ourselves. Against what? Against the good things procurable on the outside. We are told that we are protected against the pauper-made things of Europe. The truth is that they have stuffed our ears and muddled our heads and are busy robbing us on every hand." (Applause.)

Some borax deposits, Mr. George continued by way of illustration, are found in the United States. The discoverer rushes to Washington and pleads for protection. He gets it. Then freed from competition with the borax of other countries he raises the price to an exorbitant figure and the producers suffer.

Single tax, meaning one tax, necessarily meant the abolition of the tariff. It doesn't mean the taxing of incomes. "We want incomes," he stated. "We labor for them. Why tax them? So the theory excluded that policy just as much as it excluded a tax on buildings.

'There were ten thousand policemen in New York. It was a small army, as large as was the United States army prior to the civil war. Every Monday morning they assembled before the magistrates the fruit of their Sunday industry, a motley collection of drunk and disorderly characters. There are a few hurried words of explanation in each case and the interpreter of the law says: 'Ten dollars fine or ten days imprisonment.' Similarly these blue-coated guardians of the peace, gazing at a city skyscraper, say, 'Who erected that fine building? If you're the scoundrel come to the tax office and be fined.' (Laughter.) 'And if you allow it to stand another year you will be fined again.' (More laughter.) You can tax the clothes off a man's back," the speaker exclaimed, "you can tax the bread out of the mouths of the poor and you can tax the lowly born babes into the grave."

The single tax was the most direct and the simplest form of taxation and the world would attest that it was absolutely just. When buildings were taxed the price goes up. It was the same with clothes. And then there were the tariffs. Mr. George admitted amid laughter that he couldn't keep away from the tariff. Fifty per cent was slapped on goods manufactured in London and they cost that much more to the purchaser in New York. When land was taxed the price didn't increase. The press often spoke of the prosperity of the place where real estate speculation was rampant. Land speculation destroyed prosperity. (applause).

Victoria as Example.

"Take Victoria in my father's day," Mr. George continued. "Not much of a place then, only a little slap-boarded, tent dotted town. Now it was a proud city with handsome buildings, a well established trade, ships passing to and fro every day, a commercial centre of importance. In '59 lots could be purchased for a song. Look at the land now! And what had made the difference? It wasn't the landlords. It was the people. Leave the landlords and take away the population and what would there be left? Thou Shalt Not Steal. It was handed down in the decalogue. Give it the broader significance, namely, 'Thou Shalt Not Steal From Society.' Society should take from that which it created what is necessary for its regulation. It shouldn't rob the man of labor.

"I have been from one end of Canada to the other and I want to say that Providence has wonderfully blessed you. That is why some of us on the other side wanted you. (Laughter.) Personally, I don't care who does the annexing. You can do it if you like. What I mean is to knock down these barriers and reach a rational social basis through the single tax." (Applause.)

Mr. George then spoke of the situation in Great Britain. He referred to Mr. Llody George's move in introducing a tax of one-fifth of one per cent on all land as a piece of consummate politics. It was a small thing, meaning a revenue only of £500,000, but it accomplished what he was after, namely, the putting of all realty on the tax books. Once there it wouldn't be taken off in a little while. (Laughter.) Another year there might be some other arrangements regarding rates. (Applause.)

This was a move forward, a step in the proper direction, for where Great Britain led all the world would follow. Single tax meant not only better fiscal system but a better moral system. He trusted that it would be applied in Canada shortly. "You lead the way" he concluded. "Go on. Show us, in the United States, how to build cities and how to make better citizens. (Applause.)

A number of questions were asked by Mr. John Dean and answered, after which Dr. Lewis Hall and Rev. Hermon Carson moved and seconded a vote of thanks which was heartily endorsed.

At a recent meeting of the Kells (County Meath) Rural District Council, Mr. James Heath Harte moved: "That we, the members of the Kells Rural District Council, respectfully call upon Mr. John Redmond, M. P., and the Irish party to press on the British Government the claims of the Irish agricultural laborers to become owners of their cottages and plots through state-aided purchase." Mr. Patrick Carpenter, in seconding the motion, said it was only fair that the laborers should become owners of their cottages and plots of land. If the purchases were carried through with state aid, there would be no loss to ratepayers, but without state aid a purchase scheme could hardly be carried through.

WILL TALK FINANCES WITH CITY COUNCIL

School Board to Urge Necessity of Grant to Carry Out the Needed Additions to Educational Institutions

Following the discussion at the recent meeting of the city council when the city solicitor gave it as his opinion that the request of the school board that the city grant the board the sum of $15,000 for additional school purposes, the board's funds being lacking that amount to make necessary additions to the school accommodation, could not be legally met by the city a committee of the board composed of Trustees Jay, Mrs. Jenkins and McIntosh will meet the finance committee of the council and discuss the question. The money is imperatively needed if the work on the Bank Street school and the addition to the Victoria West school are to be completed. The appointment of the committee was made at the regular meeting of the board held last evening. If the necessary arrangements can be made with the city there would still be enough in the board's funds to permit of the erection of two temporary structures at the North Ward school to take care of the surplus now housed at the latter school.

The suggestion that the pupils of Esquimalt school be permitted to attend the manual training classes at the Victoria West school on the understanding that the educational department pays $20 per month and the Esquimalt school authorities $5 per month towards the salaries of the city teachers who would instruct the outside pupils in this work was adopted until such time as the city work requires the whole attention of its teachers for such work.

The chairman, Trustee Jay, together with Trustees Mrs. Jenkins and McIntosh, were appointed a committee to frame such resolutions and draft such reports as the board desires to bring before the annual meeting of the B. C. Association of School Trustees which meets at Vancouver on November 8, 9 and 10. Among the matters which will be advocated by the board will be statutory amendments prohibiting the granting of a liquor license for premises immediately adjacent to a public school and to do away with such licenses as now exist in close proximity to schools by terminating the license at the end of the license term. Another matter is that referring to the expropriation for school purposes of land required. At present the School act permits school boards to exercise such right, but there is no machinery outlined for carrying expropriations into effect.

Rifles for Cadets.

On the suggestion of Mr. S. J. Willis, principal of the High school, the board will secure fifty Ross rifles for the use of the High school cadets, the board to give a bond in $25 for each rifle guaranteeing the safe return of the rifles when the cadets are through with them.

The usual yearly honorarium will be given to Mr. Ian St. Clair, who has done so much in connection with instructing scholars in the art of swimming, Superintendent E. B. Paul suggesting that the time is coming when swimming will be one of the subjects added to the curriculum.

Leave of absence was granted to Dr. Wasson, the medical inspector, who will leave on December 20 to take a course in the Old Country. Dr. Raynor will undertake Dr. Wasson's duties during the latter's absence from the city.

Miss Isabel Moore, for the past two years assistant secretary of the board, tendered her resignation to take effect on November 11. This was received with regret.

Miss Leggett, of Edinburgh, was appointed to the teaching staff.

The offer of property on Washington street, comprising lot 16 and part of lot 15, about two and two-thirds acres, will be accepted at a figure of $16,100. The present owners are Messrs. W. Bond and W. Martineau. This site will be used for the new school which the board will erect in the future to serve that rapidly growing section.

Accounts to the amount of $2.21) were passed and ordered paid.

"IN OLD KENTUCKY"

Strong Company Presents Popular Play At the Victoria

With Mildred Johnson in the steller role, "In Old Kentucky" was presented by a strong company before a fairly large audience in the Victoria theatre last night. The scenes of the play are laid in the blue-grass state 'way down south and throughout it is thrilling with race track episodes which maintain the interest of the audience. As "Madge Brierly, the flower of the mountain," Miss Johnson portrayed a most difficult part in a very able manner, and her free and easy style made a decided hit with last night's audience. The pickaninnies are the feature of the performance and their part in the second act in which they sang southern melodies and clog danced was awarded prolonged applause. "In Old Kentucky" there is a charming love story told, in which Miss Johnson stars, and is ably supported by Andrew Rogers as "Frank Layson," a worthy son of old Kentucky. There was something about the vivid picture of life revealed in the blue-grass state which made a strong and lasting appeal. There are many natural and sparkling comedy scenes and the situations are not ridiculous or improbable. Miss Johnson as "Madge" in her daring impersonation as a jockey to save her sweetheart's fortune is not an impossible episode and her ride to victory did not fail to arouse all manner of enthusiasm on the part of the audience.

"In Old Kentucky" is not a new production, but one which will remain a favorite for many years to come, in view of the changing of the times in regard to the racing game. It is the only play of the present day of its kind on the road.

MR. G.H. BARNARD TO GIVE SMOKER AT A.O.U.W. HALL

Conservative Member-Elect Will This Evening Entertain Friends Who Contributed to His Victory

Under the auspices of the Victoria Conservative association, Mr. G. H. Barnard, member-elect for the Commons for this constituency, will this evening at the A. O. U. W. hall, Yates street, entertain his friends at a smoking concert, the occasion being one affording him opportunity to formally thank all the earnest workers in his behalf at the recent memorable election contest and at the same time take leave of his constituents on his departure to Ottawa to take up his sessional duties.

The programme arranged for the smoker is a most attractive one. There will be no prolonged speeches—indeed, the speeches will be "cut out" to a large extent, there being but one brief address from Mr. Barnard and the evening given over to jollification.

The chair will be taken at 8 o'clock, and the programme will consist in the main of songs and musical selections. Cigars and refreshments will be served. A cordial invitation is issued to all of the friends of the Conservative cause to attend.

AMUSEMENTS

Crystal Theatre—"Walter No. Five" is an intensely interesting biograph drama dealing with the chief of police of the Russian government, his flight with his wife to America and his subsequent pardon; "The Iconoclast" dealing with every day life and the workingman's problems will hold you spell bound to the end; "Max's Divorce Case" the comedy, is an unusually good one. You all know Max, and when he is a little bit better than usual it is worth seeing; "A Spanish Love Song" is a good western and society drama; The biggest improvement that has been made at the Crystal is the addition of the orchestra under the leadership of Prof. Philo, direct from New York, where he has had the leadership of some of the largest orchestras in that city. If you want to enjoy a treat in the way of music as well as seeing the best pictures that can be procured, go to the Crystal.

A Metropolitan Air.—Victoria is assuming a metropolitan air in respect to its system for the transportation of goods through its streets for the wholesale houses. Many of the latter have placed motor vehicles in operation, and great success has been achieved by their use. Already a considerable portion of the freight brought to the outer wharf is conveyed by means of motor vehicles.

Will Resume Inquest—The inquest commenced on Tuesday afternoon on the bodies of Grilli and Salvatore, the two Italians killed by the cave in on a cut on the Canadian Northern Pacific railway construction work near Colwood on Friday morning last, the result of a premature explosion, will be resumed this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the provincial police office. The adjournment was had owing to the failure of three witnesses to appear at the Tuesday hearing.

Making Good Progress.—The Canadian Mineral Rubber company, which has the contract for the paving of many of the streets of Victoria, is making good progress in the James Bay district. Miniature mountains of sand and gravel are placed at the intersections of many of the streets and a big concrete mixer is stationed at the corner of MBontreal and Kingston streets. Should the present favorable weather continue .. will not be long before the most of the thoroughfares in that section of the city will have been transformed into fine paved streets.

"There could be no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My children were all sick with whooping cough. One of them was in bed, had a high fever and was coughing up blood. Our doctor gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the first dose eased them, and three bottles cured them," says Mrs. R. A. Donaldson, of Lexington, Miss. For sale by all dealers.

The Colonist Has All the News

NEWS OF THE CITY

Week's Bank Clearings—Local bank clearings for the week ended Tuesday totalled $2,662,593 compared with $2,289,822 for the corresponding period a year ago.

Big Game Plentiful—Reports from the northern areas of British Columbia to the provincial game warden indicate that the big game is this year more plentiful than in half a decade past, while indications point to a heavy fur pack, notably in foxes, wolverine and mink.

Demonstration Farm—Assurance has been given the people of the Queen Charlotte islands, through Mr. C. M. Wilson, owner of the Deikatlah townsite, who recently interviewed Premier McBride in that behalf, that a government experimental or demonstration farm will shortly be established at the north of the neighbor islands.

Skidegate's Petition—A petition having reached the Education department attesting that Skidegate has now a sufficient population of juveniles to warrant the establishment of a public school, provision is being made for the apointment of a teacher in the usual manner.

Typhoid in Construction Camps—Reports as to the typhoid epidemic situation in the Canadian Northern Pacific construction camps along the upper Fraser are so serious that Dr. Davis, the specially appointed officer of the provincial health board under the legislation of last session, has been ordered to the scene to devise a remedy for existing unsatisfactory conditions and do all possible toward securing a speedy restoration of healthful conditions in the afflicted camps.

An Expensive Canine—There was a very short session of the police court yesterday morning, George Tripp has at last arrived at the conclusion that he is harboring a very expensive canine. It was only a few days ago that Mr. Tripp paid a fine of $5 for allowing this dog to bathe in one of the miniature lakes at Beacon Hill park, and yesterday he contributed $10 more to the coffers of the court for allowing his dog to have a second bath at Beacon Hill. For using indecent language on the streets George McPhadden was fined $10 or ten days.

Kamloop's Big Culvert—In connection with the construction of the big culvert at Kamloops, tenders for which were recently invited by the provincial public works department, it is understood that the bids received not being satisfactory, the work will now be proceeded with by the government under the day labor system. No tenders coming to hand for the operation of the proposed ferries on the North Thompson, no further action toward their provision will at present be taken, the need for the suggested services being obviously by no means pressing.

Bella Coola Vegetables—The last northern steamer brought to Victoria, on ordinary consignment for sale, a collection of vegetables which might well have been heralded with banners as indicative of the rapid and satisfactory development of the northern reaches of the province. It came from Bella Coola, and contained, in particular, cabbages of size and quality ranking them exhibition grade. Potatoes also were of remarkable quality. The little sample lot, forwarded chiefly for the purpose of illustrating the fertility of the Bella Coola district and its adaptability to truck farming, certainly fulfills in this respect its mission well.

No Funds Available—The apparatus consisting of swings, horizontal bars, etc., recently ordered for Beacon Hill park have been received but there are no funds wherewith to erect thm. A report of the cost of so doing will be prepared and submitted to the city council at an early date. At Tuesday evening's meeting of the city council Aldermen H. M. Fullerton and W. F. Fullerton urged that the apparatus be installed at once, both pointing to the great favor which similar apparatus has met with at the North Ward park. Both aldermen also paid a tribute to Alderman Humber, chairman of the parks committee of the council, to whom is due the purchase and installation of the apparatus at the North Ward park.

Work Point Concert—A well arranged programme will be given this evening in the Five's Court, Work Point barracks (by kind permission of Col. Wadmore and officers of the garrison) at which the following have kindly consented to take part. The concert will begin at 8.30 p. m. and a small admission fee will be charged, the proceeds to be given to the church fund of St. Paul's naval and garrison church. The programme follows: Songs by Mr. and Mrs. Wood, Mr. Hind, Mrs. Morgan, Rev. T. R. Heneage, Capt. G. F. Foulkes, Mr. Fred Richardson, Messrs. Merry, Cave, Wilkerson, Mello and Davy; recitations, Miss Eugenia Fox, "The Women of Mumbie's Head," "My Ships," "Especially Jim," "The Charge at Dargai," "Domestic Asides," "Queen Catherine's Defence (Henry VIII.)," "Lochinvar"; Spanish dance by Miss Catherine Roberts; songs by Rev. W. Baugh Allen and Mr. Llewellyn; accompanists, Miss Harcourt and Mrs. Morgan.

First Aid to the Injured—The announcement is made that the Canadian Pacific railway has planned a big competition for the members of its "First Aid to the Injured" classes. The Canadian Pacific has gone into this matter very thoroughly and it is now the foremost railway in America in teaching its employees "First Aid." In the competition to be held in a few weeks practically every man on the company's lines holding a certificate will be entered. The competition will take the form of a team contest in which there will be five men to the team. First of all examinations will be held to determine the champion of each division. Then the various divisions will compete to determine the champions of the lines east and west of Fort William and Port Arthur, and finally these latter two teams will meet to decide the champion team of the C. P. R. system. In each division the winning team will receive a silver cup and medals given by the general superintendents. For the winners of the Eastern lines competition, there will be medals given by other high officials of the C. P. R. and for the team winning the championship of the whole system there will be a beautiful shield given by the Hon. W. Nesbitt, Toronto. Among the cities which will be represented in this competition will be Halifax, St. John, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg, Calgary, Vancouver, and Victoria.

Trolley Wire Breaks—The breaking of the trolley wire on the Fort street tramway line, near Broad street, stopped traffic for some time last night. The charged wire as it fell to the ground, narrowly missed striking pedestrians who were passing along at the time.

Unitarian Meeting—The Unitarians will hold a meeting at 8 o'clock this evening in their hall at 1236 Government street for the purpose of forming a society for the general discussion of matters of interest along religious, social and scientific lines. All those who would care to join the society are cordially invited to attend.

Salmon Running in Straits—The Cohoe and spring salmon fishing off the outer wharves during the past few days has been reported as excellent and a great number of the fishermen who are fond of the trolling system have been out trying their luck. Yesterday afternoon between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock one party caught 14 salmon. A large number of fishermmen have been out and continue to go out, despite the prevailing fogs.

Injured by Runaway—In attempting to stop a runaway yesterday afternoon at Yates street, Constable Farrant, on point duty at that spot, narrowly escaped serious injuries. The frightened animal bolted south along the thoroughfare at a fast rate of speed. Constable Farrant sprang for the reins but missed them, and was struck by one of the front wheels of the buggy behind. He was knocked back with great force, damaging his left hand and receiving severe bruises. The horse continued on its career across the Causeway, but was ultimately caught in James Bay. The buggy was badly damaged.

Native Sons' Ball—The committee in charge of the arrangements for the annual Native Sons' ball have been struck and there is every indication the affair, which this year be held in the Alexandra club ballroom on the evening of November 17th, will be a success. The committee are: reception committee, Chief Factor and Past Chief Factor, Hon. Richard McBride, K. C., and Mr. G. H. Barnard; ball committee, P. J. Hall, First Vice-Factor, H. G. Dalby, Second Vice-Factor, Arthur E. Haynes, J. T. Fox, Joseph Wilson, William C. Moresby, James Fletcher, J. S. Yates, W. H. Langley, George N. Gowen, T. A. Kerr, F. Walker, J. A. McTavish, Reginald Hayward, I. Camsusa E. P. Johnson, H. Brown, John Langley, A. J. Sommers, Charles King, E. E. Wootten, F. N. J. White, Dr. J. D. Helmcken and Sidney Child; ball committee, P. J. Hall, G. T. Fox, J. S. Yates and A. E. Haynes; music, A. E. Haynes, J. A. McTavish; floor committee, H. G. Dalby, W. H. Langley, H. Brown, J. S. Yates and W. C. Moresby; refreshment committee, Reginald Hayward, L. Camsusa, E. P. Johnson; secretary, Reginald Hayward; treasurer, H. G. Dalby. It has been decided that a buffet supper will be served from 9 o'clock to 3 a. m.

HURLED TO DEATH

Steel Worker, Uncoated by Swinging Girder, Falls 100 Feet in Niagara Canyon

Struck by a swinging girder which was being put into place on the new steel bridge at Niagara Canyon on the E. & N. railroad, Harry Swanson, a steel worker, was unseated from his lofty position and fell one hundred feet below to his death about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The girder caught the young man so heavily that it is likely that he was stunned before he fell. When picked up a few minutes later life was extinct.

Swanson had come from Seattle, where he had been a steel worker. Little is known of him in the camp, but relatives have been communicated with. His remains will likely be brought to the city today.

RATES TOO HIGH

Telegraph Companies to be Asked by Board of Trade to Reduce their Western Tariffs

The Victoria Board of Trade is of the opinion that the time has arrived when more favorable telegraphic rates should be granted this province, and a strong representation to this end will be made at once to the companies interested. At At the special meeting of the council of the board held yesterday morning, the committee on public works and railways presented the following report, which was adopted:

Gentlemen: Your committee on Public Works and Railways beg to report having considered the rates charged for telegrams in this province.

"So far as we know no reductions have been made for many years; certainly, in comparison with the rates obtaining in eastern Canada the British Columbia charges are very high. The population of British Columbia has rapidly increased, and we may call attention to the fact that recently, when this board complained of inefficient service, excuse was made that the business had outgrown the arrangements for handling it. It would therefore appear that the time has arrived when a reduction in the western rates can reasonably be looked for.

"Your committee further beg to call attention to the Day Lettergram service provided in the United States and operative within comparatively a few miles of this city.

"We would also recommend that these representations be made to the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Great Northwestern telegraph companies with a request that the Day Lettergram service be made effective on this side of the boundary line, and also that they be asked to revise their Western tariffs to meet the changed conditions of population and business."

ALBERNI'S REQUEST

Deputations from Island Townsite Seek Incorporation—Government's Answer

Incidental to the proposed incorporation of Alberni—with the inclusion within the boundaries of the new municipality of both the so-called "Old Town" and its neighbor and rival, Port Alberni—two large deputations were heard before the provincial executive yesterday. The complete desires of the incorporators would involve an area in excess of that fixed by law, and in certain details there is not complete accord between the "old" town and the new. After hearing the arguments advanced by all parties interested an official communication was forwarded to the spokesman for the Port Alberni deputation, suggesting that if the petition for incorporation might be modified somewhat, so as to exclude from the proposed corporate limits a certain strip of territory lying along Roger creek, it might operate toward securing a better feeling among all interested, and facilitate the objects sought, by doing away with what Alberni residents are inclined to look upon as a grievance. In other words, the interested parties are advised to get together, in the event of which there will be no apparent obstacle in the path of the incorporators.

BUILDING FIGURES GROW

The value of buildings for which permits have been issued this year received another large increase yesterday when the permit for the handsome store and office building to be erected on the east side of Douglas street, between Broughton and Courtney streets, by Messrs. Brawshaw, Martin and Marymont, was issued by the building inspector.

The new structure, which will be six stories in height, with basement, and thoroughly modern in all respects, will cost $136,000. The plans have been prepared by Mr. H. S. Griffiths and the contract for construction has been awarded to Messrs. Atkinson & Dill. Of concrete construction, the building will contain 105 offices and rooms each of which will have hot and cold water and be heated by steam. The basement will be of greater depth than usual, and will in all probability be used for a grill.

HERE AND THERE

[Pre]vention.

Every one will be glad to know that Fire Chief Davis is to have his way and that the theatres in which moving pictures are shown will be as safe as is humanly possible. No city can afford to run risks in such a matter. Victoria has never suffered from a panic in a public building, and it is to be hoped it never will. There are some things that can be prevented but never cured and this is one of them.

A Dangerous Material.

Most women know that flannelette is a very inflammable goods, but still the material is so cheap and so comfortable that it is in constant use in most households. Little babies' garments are made from it, its use for nightdresses for old and young is almost universal. Perhaps the most dangerous use to which it can be put is the loose jacket or kimono that a woman throws over her when she comes down in the morning to light the fire. Many an inexperienced housekeeper has found that the pretty garment of fleecy softness must be watched with the greatest care if a terrible death is to be avoided. The London Lancet publishes an article which shows that the danger from this source is fully recognized in Great Britain. The lesson to be drawn from the article is that no one wearing flannelette should be permitted to go near an open fire. Such precautions can be taken by all mothers as will prevent any risk. This the Lancet does not seem to think sufficient. It says:

"Roughly speaking the deaths in the United Kingdom from this cause amount to a thousand a year, the great majority being those of children under ten years of age. Further, of these the great majority is of females; out of one set of returns for three winter months of 175 deaths from burning flannelette no fewer than 120 were those of females. Under five years of age the sexes are practically equal in their liability to death from this cause, but there is a striking falling off in the deaths of male children from the time when they cease to wear petticoats. Again, in the same returns we see that between the ages of five and ten there were recorded the deaths of only eight boys, while the girls who lost their lives numbered thirty-four; of the eighty-two deaths of those above five years, seventy-three were of females.

"The subject will, therefore, be seen to be one of special interest to women, whether as wearers themselves of flannelette garments more than men, or as mothers, guardians and nurses of the children who form so large a proportion of the deaths recorded from the use of ordinary flannelette. But if the majority of deaths were those of males women would still be as largely responsible, (since they are the chief buyers of garments and materials for clothing, especially for children), and, of course, would be equally ready to sympathize with the sufferers and do their best to remedy the evil. This consists of two dangers, one from the untreated flannelette, and the other from that labeled as non-inflammable, but not really so. In the imperfectly treated material the fire-resisting qualities diminish with each successive washing, and it therefore becomes a danger trap in consequence of the less care being given to the little ones so clothed. The first danger could be stopped at once if every woman, no matter for whom she was buying, were to foreswear the use of ordinary flannelette. If women ceased buying the manufacturerers would be forced to cease making."

Need of Education.

The returns from California show that if the women of that state have no attained the suffrage, it cannot be long denied them. It is conceded by all parties in Great Britain that it is only a matter of a few years when the women of the motherland will be given a voice in the councils of the nation. In Canada the agitation for the franchise for the women has begun and in our own province a very active campaign in favor of the municipal, provincial and federal franchise is in progress. The probability is that the political power will be in the hands, if not of the mothers of today, then of their daughters as well as their sons. Many of the most gifted of Canada's daughters are eager for the day when women shall vote and the Woman's Council of Canada has, as in many other countries, declared in favor of woman suffrage. And yet what do the most of us know about political questions or the science of government? The answer that the intelligent woman knows more than the street loafer is not to the purpose. Women are not all intelligent and the loafer, objectionable as he is, forms a small minority of the electorate. Our duty is plain. We must, if we are to vote, study those questions with which governments have to deal. It will not do for us to plead want of time or opportunity. Once the franchise is yielded to our importunity it will be the duty of every woman to exercise it. Who are to be our masters? may be asked. In the strife of parties to whom shall we listen? That each must decide for herself. There are books by great writers and thinkers which tell truths as the writers see them. In colleges there are teachers of political economy. But, it may be said, such study can only be for the minority. Perhaps so, yet we know that not a few women have been and are distinguished for their knowledge of those facts and principles upon which the wisest of legislators base their acts. All can learn to be honest and upright and charitable and often all of these are the qualifications which every elector should possess. It is quite time that the women of Canada resolved that when the time comes for them to vote, the electorate will not only be less corrupt but more intelligent than it is at present. Unless this is the case woman suffrage will be a calamity instead of a blessing.

Was It a Crime?

A short time ago two members of a Shaker community in Florida administered chloroform to a sister whom they supposed to be dying of consumption. The sick woman never woke and they have been arrested for murder. No doctor authorised the giving of the anaesthetic. The woman who was one of the parties tells the story very simply. She says that all the community believed the woman to be at death's door and that it was only to relieve her agony, to make her passage into the Great Beyond easier, that the poison was administered. The pair, who appear to be conscientious, loving people have been arrested for murder.

Physicians in England who have been interviewed in the matter are unanimous in declaring that the act was a crime. In the first place no physician much less a person without professional knowledge can say absolutely that recovery is impossible, no matter how ill a person may be. To hasten death even with the best intention is not allowable. The question is one of intense interest to women whose lot in most cases is to watch the sufferings of the dying. It is easy to imagine a case in which there would be terrible temptation to cut short the agony which the watcher can do nothing to relieve. We are an ease-loving generation and voluntary suffering is scarcely known among us. Only the conviction that the law, "Thou shalt not kill," is a divine one and that pain must be borne by each of us as part of the discipline of life will keep us safe in the midst of what must be a temptation powerful in proportion to the love and compassion of the sympathizers. Every day shows but too plainly that human life is losing its sacredness and that to escape pain, whether mental or physical, men and women are ready to part with their own. What can be done to bring the people of this rising generation to a nobler conception of life and duty?

Women and Their Work.

Mrs. Caroline M. Severance, one of the most noted women of the Pacific Coast, is leader in a movement to erect a colossal statue of Peace at the entrance of the Panama canal. The design proposed is that of a beautiful woman with a lion and a lamb lying at her feet.

A woman, Mrs. Belle M. Fowler, has been appointed to inspect the cafes and bakeries and other places where cooked food is sold in the city of Spokane in Washington. This is work of no little importance and a good housekeeper should be able to do it well.

Bahisat-al-Badia is a Mohammedan woman who is working in Egypt in the cause of women. She recently addressed a congress at which she proposed a number of reforms among which was the abolition of polygamy. This aroused great opposition. The following received the assent of the congress:

That every girl should receive a common school education, that in every school there should be an educated woman to teach the girls good manners and the rudiments of religion, that as soon as practical a university should be established for women, that a physician and a nurse to aid women in childbirth should be maintained in every city and village, that special schools be established where girls should be taught housekeeping and the care of children, and that the hiring of women to stand about a bier and beat their heads and faces at funerals be forbidden.

Queen Alexandra, who is living quietly at Sandringham during the two years of her mourning is not idle. The time is taken up by such kind acts as made her the darling of the countryside while she was the Princess of Wales and in many charities.

The treasury at Washington recently lost one of its most remarkable employes by the resignation of Mrs. Willa A. Leonard, after forty-seven years of service as a detector of counterfeit paper money. During her long term of service in the treasury Mrs. Lenard handled $1,500,000,000 with a loss of only ten dollars to the government. Although she was seventy-one years old at the time of her withdrawal, she was as skillful and accurate as ever in her special work. She seems, in fact, to have had a natural gift for the task assigned to her, and in this she never had a superior. Married in 1860, her husband went to the war in 1861, and she never saw him again, he being numbered among the unknown dead on a battle field in Tennessee. In 1864 General Francis E. Spinner, then United States treasurer, gave Mrs. Leonard a position in the redemption division of the treasury, where for years she was employed counting paper money. She was then shifted to the work of redeeming paper currency, and here her peculiar talent at once displayed itself. She became an authority on the subject of counterfeit money and detected many bills passed as genuine by other persons in the department. She even surpassed the members of the Secret Service in her ability to judge of the genuineness of paper money.—Leslie's Weekly.

Queen Wilhelmina of Holland lately celebrated her thirtyfirst birthday, but she is so greatly beloved by her people as when a blooming maiden she ascended the throne. Her girl baby, the Princess Juliana, is the darling of the nation. The queen is a very unpretentious woman, and she and her husband walk to church with the other members of the congregation.

The following very interesting little story of Queen Victoria is published by M. A. P.

Recently published correspondence tells a characteristic story of Queen Victoria. In her late years the late Queen became very deaf. She sat on a low chair and invariably put her gloves and fan on the chair at her side. This meant that nobody could take a seat next to her without her approval by the removal of the gloves and the fan. One evening Lord Roberts was engaged in conversation with her and though not tall in stature, he could not bend so as to make his remarks audible to her Majesty. He thereupon took his seat on the chair by the Queen's side, not noticing the gloves and the fan. The Queen, for a wonder, said nothing. But after the old field marshal had gone the Queen evidently kept thinking about it. Finally she remarked, half-angrily: "He may be Lord Roberts, but he need not have sat on my fan and gloves."

Keep Your Windows Open

Don't sleep in a closed room.

Fresh air is the basic requisite to good health. A sealed chamber is a breeding place of disease.

The lungs utilize all the oxygen they breathe and expel their impurities in your exhalations.

Within a hour a man consumes all the oxygen in the average room. If the windows and transom are down and the door is shut, thereafter he breathes foul poisons.

Rural communities should, by reason of natural advantages, be practically immune from the "White Plague," but statistics show a greater percentage of consumptives among the farmers than any other class of people.

Who isn't familiar with the deadly parlor with its stale atmosphere where for days at a stretch whole generations of malign germs are permitted to incubate undisturbed! A week often passes without the admission of sunlight. As well spend an afternoon in a smoke-filled tunnel as remain in such a pest-hole.

Open the windows even in the rain—far better to spoil a few trumpery lace curtains and spot the carpet than jeopardize your health.

Take this prescription from Old Dr. Commonsense and you won't need half as many from Young Dr. Brown.—Woman's World for September.

The steamer Bannockburn will make another trip from Nanaimo to San Francisco with coal for the Westrn Fuel company and will then load lumber on the Sound for Port Pirie.

Fog Hinders Shipping

Thick fog delayed shipping here and at nearby ports on the mainland yesterday. The steamer Inaba Maru of the Nippon Yusen kaisha line which reached William Head at 6 p. m. from the Orient went to an anchorage in Royal Roads after passing quarantine and will come to the wharf early this morning. Some of the local steamers were delayed. The Princess Adelaide did not arrive from Vancouver until nearly 5 o'clock and left for Seattle about an hour later and the Princess Victoria was a little behind her usual time.

Helen to Paris

Tonight, this very night, thou'lt have me go
And see the mighty deep is bright and whist,
O visitor divine from heavenly spaces,
Come down to me, a star out of the stars!
Thou hast a charm such no mortal hath,
For we have many in Greece, comely and tall,
They take my eye a moment, and are past,
But thou hath made me suffer, so I love thee;
Strange, for too well I know, thou lov'st me not,
Though I have often feigned that in some look
Or casual word of thine some meaning lay,
And bent it this and that way in the night,
Straining at hollow solace in the dark,
Thou are too far above my fate to care,
And well I know that I, in following thee,
Follow a shadow and no man; for thou
Hast noth nothing in thee of faith and steadiness,
And yet but lift thy finger and I follow,
Now that the moments come Sparta is sweet,
Beloved hills and places where I played
A child with children, ere I learned to love,
And he, my husband, Menelaus, he,
Was ever kind and full of cherishing,
Though thou hast lightly laughed him from my soul.
But Paris, though we go I have a fear
That we are rousing the dread Gods to strife,
Last night there was a flame upon the heaven,
As of some city into ashes turned.
But let the world reel on unto its doom,
Say'st thou but "come," I come to the earth's end.
—Stephen Phillips in Westminster Gazette.

WORLD'S SERIES EXCITES INTEREST

Comparison of the Relative Strength of Giants and Athletics—Mathewson Prominent Pitcher—Gate Receipts

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—With the world's series almost at hand, interest developed today over the possibilities of New York ending the season with its record tied with that established by the Philadelphia Americans. New York easily won from Brooklyn, making a record of ninety-nine games won and fifty-one games lost, as compared with Philadelphia's record of 101 victories and fifty defeats.

While Philadelphia has no chance to improve its record, since its season is ended, New York has four games to play, all with Brooklyn, to which it has lost but two out of eighteen games played. With victories in all four contests, New York's record would show a percentage of .669, equaling that of Philadelphia.

The first whisper of trouble in the condition of the New York players picked for the world's series got among the fans tonight because of a slight injury to Capt. Larry Doyle, who turned his ankle while running around first base in the sixth inning today. He retired from the game, and this caused anxiety, as Doyle is one of the hardest hitters and best base stealers in the club. He assured inquirers that he was certain his ankle would be all right Saturday.

Comparative Figures.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—Comparison of the relative strength of the New York Nationals and the Philadelphia Americans, who will begin their battle for the world's championship next Saturday, made by the unofficial records of the teams for the present season, shows that in battling the Giants have a team average of .272 for 146 games, while the Athletics show .294 for 150 games. In fielding the Giants average .961 and the Athletics .962.

McGraw's men have stolen 436 bases, while the Athletics have a total of 228 bases. The Athletics have made 865 runs and the Giants 720. In safe hits the figures give the Athletics 1,508 and the Giants 1,298.

Estimate of Receipts.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—A rough estimate of the gross receipts when the Giants and the Athletics play the first world's series game at the polo grounds here next Saturday, provided weather conditions are favorable, is as follows:

Four hundred boxes at $25 each, $10,000; 16,000 lower grandstand seats at $2 each, $32,000; 10,000 upper grandstand seats at $3 each, $30,000; 5,000 grandstand admission, $2 each, $10,000; 15,000 open stand seats at $1 each, $15,000; gross receipts, $97,000.

Of this total the National commission's 10 per cent. will be $9,700; club owners' share, 30 per cent., $20,100; players' share, 60 per cent., $58,200. A guess places the entire gross receipts for the series, provided seven games are played, at more than $300,000.

Star performers of New York's National League baseball team, who are expected by local fans to win the world's championship, come from many sections of the country. Only two of the players expected to lead in defending National League honors were born within the boundaries of the Empire state.

Christy Mathewson, veteran pitcher of the club, with ten years' service to his credit, overtops in length of service Ames, another pitcher, by two years, while Wiltze and Devlin have played seven years each. Meyers, the Indian catcher, and Murray have been but two years in continuous service with the club.

Fletcher, born in Collinsville, Ill., has been two and a half years with the team, while "Josh" Devore, the smallest player in the league, joined the team last year, although he had been purchased in 1908.

Larry Doyle, captain, is 24 years old. He was born in Caseyville, Ill., and has been defending the New York baseball hopes for four years. Herzog, 24, is a native of Baltimore, Md. Warren, Pa., contributed Ames. He is 27 years old.

Wiltze, pitcher, comes from Hamilton, N.Y. He is 28. Merkle was born 23 years ago in Watertown, Wis. Devore was born in Murray City, O., less than 23 years ago. Crandall, 23, is a native of Wadina. Devlin, who with Mathewson, claims seniority of age in 31 years, was born in Washington, D.C.

Marquard, the "$11,000 beauty," first saw the light in Cleveland. He is 23. Meyers was born 28 years ago in Riverside, Cal. "Matty" was born in Factoryville, Pa. Snodgrass is a "native son" of California, his birthplace being Ventura and his age 23.

Four of the players participated in the series of 1905 when the Giants won the world's championship. They are Mathewson, Ames, Devlin and Wiltze. Mathewson is the only man on the team who was there when John McGraw took over the management.

Connie Mack Loses.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 11.—The All-Stars had little trouble in defeating the Philadelphia American league team here today, 13 to 5. Krause hit the longest drive of the year at the local park, lifting the ball over the left field fence for a home run. Neither team showed remarkable defensive powers, the men being unwilling to take chances.

All-Stars	13	16	1

Batteries—Morgan, Krause, Coombs and Livingston, Lapp; R. Collins, Mullin and Street, Henry.

Coast League.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—Oakland continued hitting the ball today, driving one Vernon pitcher from the mound and winning from the Villagers, 8 to 1. Stewart was removed after three hits had been registered from his delivery in the first inning. Kilroy was not much more effective. Wolverton knocked the ball out of the lot again today and Tiedmann also scored a home run. Ables, pitching for the Oaks, was steady and at no time in danger.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Vernon	1	6	2
Oakland	8	10	1

Batteries—Stewart, Kilroy and Brown; Ables and Mitze.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—Portland fell upon Toser today for four hits and three runs in the second inning, and was never headed. Los Angeles could do nothing with Henderson.

Portland	4	13	1
Los Angeles	2	6	1

Batteries—Henderson and La Longe; Toser and Brooks.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 11.—Sacramento's only error, contributed by O'Rourke, in the third inning, gave Vitt a life on first and played the way for his score on Weaver's double. Fanning's home run in the third and bunched hits and a sacrifice fly gave the Seals their other tallies.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
San Francisco	3	10	2
Sacramento	2	6	1

Batteries—Fanning and Carman; Baum and Price.

MANAGER McGRAW'S GIANTS TAKE A REST

Rain Gives Polo Grounds a Good Wash Before the World's Series Saturday

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The surface of the big arena at the Polo grounds, where the first game of the world's championship series will be staged Saturday, was soaked by a persistent rain today and a double-header scheduled between New York and Brooklyn had to be postponed. Manager McGraw managed to make the afternoon a profitable one in training certain of his brightest stars for the approaching fray.

The last league games of the year are scheduled for tomorrow and weather permitting the locals will end their season in a double-heade, with Brooklyn at the Polo grounds. They will have to win both games to get over the hundred mark and top the Philadelphia Americans in the number of victories in the season.

Few big wagers on the world's series were reported here. Hundreds of small bets between friends, however, have been made at even money. A party of old ball players have put up $500 against $5,000 that New York would win four straight games from Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—The American league champions and their sparring partners the All-Stars, are expected to return here tomorrow for their final appearance prior to the opening of the world's championship series in New York Saturday. Reports from the south indicate that Manager Mack has succeeded in putting the finishing touches on his proteges and that all will be in perfect condition for their battle to retain their title of champions of the world.

Jack McInnes, the injured first baseman, was in today's practice and showed that he is in condition to start in the series.

Wrestler Walker Returning.

OTTAWA, Oct. 11.—George Walker, middleweight wrestling champion of Canada, who spent several months with his parents in Toronto, arrived today on his way home in Vancouver, where he is entered for several big tournaments. He is convinced that he did not get an opportunity of doing himself justice in the festival of Empire events in London, and wants to be sent to the Olympia games at Stockholm next year. Walker has been training and will get right back to hard work immediately after his arrival at the coast.

JONES CONTRADICTS GENERAL RULE

Nearly everyone playing Canada's national game will tell you that a manager of a lacrosse team who wishes to go any distance in the race for the championship honors must possess a pretty long and extensive knowledge of the game, and also must expend many years in acquiring that knowledge. Con. Jones, the genial manager of the Vancouver aggregation of stars, is a direct set-back to the above theory.

Con's interest in the game started only a few years ago, when he first arrived in the city of Vancouver fresh from Australia. Where lacrosse is as yet only in its infancy. When he took hold of the Vancouver team things were at a low ebb. New Westminster, the new champions of the world, were having things pretty much their own way, and the Vancouver twelve could make no headway against them.

Con jumped into the game from the instant he took charge of the demoralized Vancouver bunch. Players of senior calibre were plainly needed and no time was lost in getting them. The cast was raided and the best men in the province transplanted to the Pacific slope to give battle to the all-conquering Westminster team.

For a while it was not hard for a player to find Con, but it took the new manager only one season to know a good lacrosse player when he saw him, and the present proud position held by the Vancouver team is a tribute to the quickly acquired knowledge of the game. The man who wishes to-day now to pull the wool over Con's eyes must get up pretty early in the morning, for the shrewd manager knows a player from the first step he sets foot on the turf.

BATTLING NELSON WINS FROM BEECHER

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Battling Nelson won handily tonight in a 10-round bout from "Willie" Beecher, a local lightweight, who twice defeated "Knockout" Brown. Nelson was cheered by a large crowd of boxing enthusiasts, for it was the former champion's first fight in New York.

At the start Beecher appeared the more clever and landed rights and lefts to the face and body almost at will, but the Dane took the beating as he did when champion, with head lowered and kept pressing in on his man.

In the third the "battler" came up fast, steadying Beecher with hard rights and lefts to the face that drew blood from the mouth and nose. Beecher seemed tired at the gong. The fourth was nip and tuck, and in the fifth, Beecher made a target of Nelson's head, but without avail. Nelson retaliated with some of his former body punches.

From this on Nelson was always going in hard, head first, with Beecher constantly backing up. At the end of the ninth and tenth rounds, the local man appeared glad to hear the bell.

It was the general opinion that Nelson won by a good margin.

High School Doings

Athletes at the high school are getting into trim for the winter season. The boys had their first rugby practice on Tuesday and the girls are training three times a week for the hockey season. Monday, Friday and Saturday are the days of each week selected by Miss Kate Jackson, the captain, for hockey practice and the usual high class team is expected to play regularly at the school, where at present rests the inter-scholastic hockey championship of British Columbia. The girls are doing their training with the junior team, which will enter the city school league.

AT HALF TIME

The majority of the Minto Cup holders who came from the East are now returning home with the season's spoils. Are they coming back next season? Fitzgerald was among the first to go from Vancouver, but didn't sign any contract for 1912.

The Tecumseh team left for the East with their coffers filled to the extent of $2,000, which was cleared in the three games played in the west. Their share of the two games in Vancouver was $4,600, besides $200 gathered in from this city. A fairly good purse, even if they did not raise the cup.

Con Jones said in Vancouver after he went back from here "with men like Joe Lally or Charlie Querrie, the game would soon become popular in Victoria and I would not be surprised if some of the eastern officials head a team over there next season." Con is certainly optimistic for Victoria, but there isn't much to warrant any such hope at the present time.

Sam Lorimer's squad of soccer warriors play the Foresters on Saturday, while the Victoria West, 1910 champion team, is going out after its first victory this season with the newly organized Sons of England team. The Wests were beaten in the opening game with the Garrison. The Wards, who at present lead the league are resting this coming Saturday.

The National league closes today. Brooklyn plays at New York with the Giants and the Chicago Cubs close with Cincinnati.

Baseball has said farewell to nearly all parts now except in the Coast league, which runs until October 22. Portland is making a pretty race for the flag, but Vernon is not to be forgotten.

With all other winter sport under way except rugby, Frank Patrick can now get busy with his hockey league.

The rugby season is delayed this year owing to the All-Star B. C. team's trip to California. Victoria opens the season at Nanaimo on November the 11th.

The amateur lacrosse champions of Canada will return home on Tuesday night. A big reception has been planned including a full band to meet them at the station and tally-hoe to convey them around the city. Vancouver won two lacrosse championships and the baseball this year. What next?

Win Motor Cars.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Outfielder Schulte of the Chicago National league club and Ty Cobb of the Detroit American league team, won the motor cars offered this year for the player in each league who was adjudged by a "jury" of newspaper men to have been of most service to his club in 1911. It was announced today. No one line of endeavor determined the award this year, the winner being credited according to his general playing efficiency. Cobb's percentage under the scoring system was 1.000 and Schulte's 453.

REMINISCENCES OF EARLY VICTORIA

Saanich Resident, 90 Years Old, Comes to Say Good-bye to Bishop Perrin

One of the most interesting figures at Bishop Perrin's farewell reception last evening was Mrs. George Thomas, of North Saanich, an old lady of ninety years, who had come to Victoria on purpose to bid good-bye to his lordship.

Mrs. Thomas, after whom Thomas' Crossing was named, is one of the pioneers of this province, whose life has been identified with the work of the Anglican church on Vancouver Island. She came out to Victoria in the year 1850, accompanying Mrs. Woods, wife of the Rev. Charles Woods, afterwards Archdeacon Woods. Her chief object was to do missionary work, but, as a matter of fact, it was not until her marriage a few years later that this desire was realized.

Very amusing is Mrs. Thomas' account of those early days.

"We traveled to Victoria on the 'Brother Jonathan,'" she said. "We did not come by way of the Horn, but we were detained a fortnight in San Francisco, waiting for a boat. When we arrived in Victoria I noticed a very rough looking man coming down the wharf.

"Who is that, I wonder?" I asked my companion.

"Why," was the answer, "that is Mr. Woods."

But if the clergyman did not present a particularly clerical appearance, even less so did the house to which he proceeded to take his wife, her companion, and little Charlie Woods, the baby of the family, whom they had brought out with them.

As they neared the door, Mrs. Thomas, then Miss Wetton, noticed two remarkably dirty, apparently unclad little specimens of children playing about outside, and enquired who they were.

"Oh," said the clergyman, who must have anything but an easy time of it prior to his wife's arrival, "those are Adelaide and Henry. The two eldest Woods children."

"Well, as always, they looked very nice," cried the critical young Englishwoman, as the ladies entered the sitting-room and found the table covered with a particularly nice tablecloth, laid for an appetising meal.

"Don't raise the cover," cried Mr. Woods.

But, of course, that was just what she had to do, and loud was the merriment when it was discovered that the lordly looking table was nothing but a board supported by the stump of a tree.

Speaking of Archdeacon Woods, Mrs. Thomas declares that she has never known his like. She characterizes him as one of the most indefatigable of men. On Sundays he would start the day by taking a Sunday school class at the cathedral. Then he would go on to the jail, then to Esquimalt, from there to Craigflower, winding up the day at St. John's church. He opened a boys' school and a girls' school, taking charge of the former himself, while Mrs. Woods had the latter.

Like everyone else with whom he came in contact Mrs. Thomas found it hard to find words to express her admiration for Bishop Hills, whom she heard preach in London, England, before coming out to Canada. In those days the whole of British Columbia formed one huge diocese that would have tried the strength of any man.

"When I bade him good-bye," she said, "the tears rolled down his face."

One of the saddest features of that farewell, and one which Bishop Perrin happily has been spared, was the fact that, after all those years of unselfish labor, Bishop Hills' journey home to the rest he had so richly earned, was taken alone—for the devoted partner of his joys and sorrows lay asleep in the cathedral churchyard.

Mrs. Thomas and her husband, who died a few years ago, made their home, first in North Saanich, from where they moved to South Saanich, but afterwards returned to their old home. Mrs. Thomas has always been very much interested in church work and collected $875 in the streets of Victoria in order to build a church in Saanich. Her efforts were crowned with success, and St. Mary's church, Saanichton, testifies to her labors today. She herself bought the bell, books, carpets and other fittings for the sacred building, which was opened free of debt. Mrs. Thomas, who was accompanied to this city by Rev. Gilbert Cook and Mrs. Cook, makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. George Simpson.

WHITE MAN'S LAW

Special steps will, it is understood, be taken immediately by the Provincial police with the object of teaching the unruly Indians of the Clinton district due respect of the white man's law. Recent serious infractions of that law, of which the number of serious cases at the just-closed criminal assize is indicative, illustrate the necessity of such drastic action. More particularly does the involved William White murder case stand out as a case in point, White being the half-breed who not so many months ago was found dead near the cabin of a Chinese rancher named Ah Wye.

The man had evidently been done to death, and circumstances connected with the crime two Indians known as Haller and Coxie Moyie, alias Moses Paul. Both were arrested, but little evidence being presented at the preliminary inquiry connecting Haller with the affair, he was restored to liberty. Moyie, or Paul, escaped from custody, and has not yet been recaptured.

Within the past few days, however, the Chinaman Ah Wye, who was regarded by the Crown as its principal witness in fastening to the missing Indian the crime of murder, has also been found by a compatriot in his lonely cabin, battled to death with an axe. There is in this latter case no evidence connecting the missing Moyie with the second crime, but suspicion is strong that the Chinaman was sacrificed by him in order to remove the dangerous witness whose testimony might have sent him or the believes for the killing of White.

A plentiful if mysterious supply of liquor to the aboriginal inhabitants of the district is said to be at the root [illegible] of a large number of [illegible] crimes in the Province.

Six Additional Cars Put Into Commission to Cater to Rapidly Growing Population of City

Indicative at once of the great rapidity with which the population of Victoria is increasing and the desire of the B. C. Electric Railway company to do everything possible to meet the needs of its local system of transportation, comes the announcement, made yesterday by Mr. A. T. Goward, local manager of the company, that some six additional cars have just been put in service in this city. They are being utilized on the Douglas street-Outer Wharf, on the Willows and on the Esquimalt routes.

For some time past it has been apparent to the company as well as to its many patrons that owing to the large number of workingmen using the cars during what may be termed the rush hours of the day something would have to be done to relieve a congestion which was growing intolerable, particularly on the Douglas street line, and at considerable additional expense to the daily service it was determined to press more cars into service and this has now been done with the result that the additional service is proving a big success.

It is perhaps on the Douglas street route that the congestion was the more pressing. This is owing to the fact that very many of the workingmen of the city have built homes in that section of the city lying adjacent to and north of the terminus of the Douglas street line and the consequence has been that the ordinary service has been entirely inadequate especially between the hours of 5 and 6 p. m.

This difficulty has now been overcome and Mr. Goward adds that it is the aim of the company to do everything possible to meet the requirements of the community, not only in the matter of street car transportation, but also in respect to the supply of light and power. In respect to the latter requirement, the Jordan River power plant having now been completed, there will be no longer be any shortage whatever.

MADE ATTEMPT TO WRECK PIPE LINE

Unknown Parties Blow Up Section of Esquimalt Water Works Company's New Main to Goldstream

For the past two weeks the provincial police authorities have been endeavoring to ascertain the identity of the person or persons who, on September 25th, attempted to put out of commission the new main pipe line of the Esquimalt Water Works company from Goldstream to the city. Some miscreant placed a charge of dynamite or other explosive under the pipe line at a spot near Langford lake and wrecked one of the lengths of pipe allowing the water to overflow the adjoining territory. A large hole was blown in the pipe but the escape of the water was noticed early and the flow shut off.

The identity of the perpetrators of the act has not yet been discovered, nor has any reason for the act been assigned unless it was done by some disgruntled workman employed by the company.

The new main, thirty-six inches in diameter, has almost been completed from Goldstream to the point of connection with the company's system in Victoria West and will be connected at an early date, replacing the twelve-inch main which has done duty for several years. With the new main completed the capacity of the company's system in Victoria West will be materially increased and several important extensions contemplated will be undertaken.

PURIFIED HIS BLOOD

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Healed Mr. Wilson's Sores

When the sewers of the body—bowels, kidneys and skin ducts—get clogged up, the blood quickly becomes impure and frequently sores break out over the body. The way to heal them, as Mr. Richard Wilson, who lives near London, Ont., found, is to purify the blood. He writes:

"For some time I had been in a low, depressed condition. My appetite left me and I soon began to suffer from indigestion. Quite a number of small sores and blotches formed all over my skin. I tried medicine for the blood and used many kinds of ointments, but without satisfactory results. What was wanted was a thorough cleansing of the blood, and I looked about in vain for some medicine that would accomplish this.

At last Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills were brought to my notice, and they are one of the most wonderful medicines I have ever known. My blood was purified in a very short time, sores healed up, my indigestion vanished. They always have a place in my home and are looked upon as the family remedy."

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cleanse the system thoroughly. Sold by all dealers at 25c a box.

"TAX THE LAND; NOT THE PEOPLE"

Mr. Henry George, Jr., in Interview Explains Principle of Single Tax—Progress of the Movement

Few men's names stand for principles, fewer still for great principles, but the name of the son of the great Henry George stands for Single Tax. To Mr. Henry George, jr., the abolition of all tariff and "indirect" taxation are the leading motives of his propaganda. He has devoted a useful life to the advocacy of an economic ideal, and unlike most other idealists may yet live to see his ideal realized in large part. Before his lecture last night, Mr. George had a chat with the Colonist at the Empress Hotel, in which he gave an encouraging report of the prospects of the Single

MR. HENRY GEORGE, Jr.
Noted lecturer on Single Tax who spoke here last night.

Tax movement throughout the world, and clearly defined his economic standpoint.

"Our policy," he said, "is a policy of permeation. Unlike most propagandists, we "Single Taxers" avoid organization or the enrolment of our adherents. Our purpose now, as in my father's time, is not to segregate our people—not to form a Single Tax party—but to encourage them to stay in whatever party into which their political sympathies may lead them. So that we have adherents in all parties, and the sympathy and support of all sorts of party politicians. Therein lies our great political strength. It is true that in the United States, however, we have become more or less prominently associated with the Democratic party, pledged as it is to the pdinciples laid down by Thomas Jefferson, who stood always for "equal rights to all; special privileges to none."

The Single Tax Creed

"Single tax philosophy means the destruction of all landed privileges with an equitable distribution of taxation between all who now own the earth. It involves, of course, the abolition of all indirect or tariff taxation. It proposes to tax land upon its market value. The assessment of the full selling value of lands to be made by impartial experts appointed by the local authorities. We also advocate the publication of the entire assessment and tax list, so that every property owner may know not only how much he is taxed but also the assessed value of his neighbor's holdings. This would prevent injustice, and any suspicion or fear of favoritism.

"As a member of the United States Congress, you advocated Reciprocity with Canada, did you not?" Mr. George was asked.

"Yes," replied Mr. George, who sits in Congress for the 17th District of New York City. "I both voted for Reciprocity and spoke in its favor in debate. In Congress I sit as a Democrat, and our party is pledged to a low tariff and an income tax. Personally, as you, know, I stand for no tariff and a land tax. But 'half a loaf'——. I admit, however, that though a small decrease in the tariff might increase, a large decrease in the tariff would decrease a country's revenue. With regard to an income tax, the U. S. Supreme court has declared that the Constitution will have to be amended to admit of income taxation. For this, the support of thirty-six states is needed and of these, 30 have already pronounced in its favor. An income tax is to us preferable to tariff taxes for two reasons:—

"1. Income tax is a direct tax, on which you know what you are paying. You can see the one tax, but not the other.

"2. Seeing and feeling the direct income tax, instead of the insidious tariff taxes, I believe the majority of men in the states would quickly seek a substitute for an income tax. This will bring them inevitably to the Single Tax on ground values—which is at once the surest and simplest, the most equitable and economical of all forms of taxation.

The Single Ttax on ground values falls upon a value produced by the community to whom it should go. The value of any land excluding improvements is produced by social growth and social improvement. The greater part of present taxation is a tax on individual effort. It puts a premium on human progress. The whole burden of taxation should be concentrated on ground values, as these are the only values that are not the fruit of personal effort, but of the accumulated efforts of all society."

Progress of Movement

"What progress has the movement made generally since you last visited British Columbia?"

"Throughout the world we have gained thousands of new adherents. More, the legislation of the past year or so has been all in our direction. No province in Canada or the United States has yet made requisition on its local authorities for share of the taxes of land values where they have been adopted as yet, but I am in hopes that such a step will not now be long deferred. Local authorities, however, throughout the continent, are rapidly adopting the ground values tax. Both Great Britain and Germany have taken steps in this direction during the past year. As you know, the Lloyd George Budget of 1910 provided for a Government valuation of all lands in the United Kingdom, and imposed a tax of a halfpenny in the pound on unearned increment in land values. A Royal Commission is now at work to report to the Imperial government the advisability of giving local rating authorities power to go to ground values for their local revenues. In Germany, the Reichstag passed, quite recently an act which lays a tax on ground values throughout Germany. The revenue thus obtained is to be divided into tenth parts, of which 5 go to the Imperial exchequer, one to the treasury of the different states or provinces, and the remaining four-tenths to the local treasury. We have yet to see what Canada will do to encourage individual effort and tax individual apathy by the adoption of the single tax principle of obtaining the revenue from the market values of land."

VANCOUVER ASKS GOVERNMENT AID

Deputations Lay Some Civic Problems Before Executive, With Request for Assistance in Solution Thereof

Three large and influential deputations from the neighbor city of Vancouver yesterday waited upon the provincial executive, the conferences—on matters of weighty public concern—in consequence of the lateness in the arrival of the fog-delayed afternoon steamer, extending well into the evening. The subjects under consideration were with respect to the desired facilitation of the annexation of South Vancouver to Vancouver proper, special assistance in school matters for the suburban districts erstwhile known as Hastings Townsite and D. L. 301, and the proposed acquirement of the Kitsilano Indian reservation to form a new and important portion of Vancouver city. Each of these matters was considered in detail and at length, and in each the decision of the government stands in reserve.

South Vancouver Annexation.

With respect to South Vancouver, in which it is alleged the sentiment for annexation is strong and general, albeit difficulty presents itself in securing ratification of the desired arrangement by a 51 per cent. vote of the interested property owners, a somewhat unique situation is said to exist. This, it will be remembered, was briefly unfolded on the occasion of a previous application for special governmental relief some months ago. The circumstances since then have not materially altered. The difficulty, to put the matter succinctly, is said to be that although the people both of Vancouver city and of South Vancouver favor the annexation programme, so much South Vancouver property is held and occupied by purchasers under agreements of sale and long time payments that the residents cannot, under the law, express their wishes—the vote being in the hands of registered owners of the properties, many of these non-residents and many others regarding the properties as in fact disposed of and bringing them in periodical payments, and these owners feeling that it would be an "unfair" and unwise act on their part to vote, possibly not in accordance with the wishes and feelings of those who have bought from them.

The result is an alleged impossibility

under existing legislation to secure, by bylaw vote, a fair expression of the sincere wishes of all concerned, and the government is besought to so amend or relax the law in this particular case that action in the direction of annexation may be taken.

It is understood that another vote on the annexation proposals will be taken during next December—and with the wisdom of this procedure the government is said to be in entire accord—although the chief movers in the matter are not at all sanguine of any definite or satisfactory result, for the causes before cited. After this vote has been taken, and if the situation remains unchanged, the government is urged to take emergency action.

The request of the delegates, who included yesterday Reeve Bound of South Vancouver, Ald. H. H. Stevens, M. P., Alds. Crowe, Williamson and Rogerson, will be given the serious consideration of the premier and his colleagues. The present appeal to the government is the direct outcome of a joint meeting between delegates from South Vancouver municipality and Vancouver city held on September 28th last.

Kitsilano Reserve.

With respect to the desired acquisition by Vancouver of the Kitsilano reservation, the proposal made to the government in effect is that the provincial authorities pass an order-in-council relinquishing whatever reversionary or other vested rights it may and does possess in the reservation area, in order that with their hands thus strengthened, the civic authorities may go to Ottawa for permission to acquire the property under the conditions defined in federal legislation. Two million dollars is the estimated value placed upon the sixty-odd acres contained in the reservation which the city hopes to secure, this choice property lying between False Creek and the settled areas along Kitsilano beach, rapidly becoming one of the most fashionable residential districts of Vancouver.

It is claimed that with the acquirement of this property, and also the twenty-three acres of tide-flats under the Granville street bridge for which application has already been made, the city of Vancouver will have secured for the future more valuable land than has at any time heretofore been obtained for Vancouverites. The tide-flats area is roughly valued at $1,000,000, and the plans of the city engineer showing the proposed disposition of the mud beds have already been forwarded to Ottawa, favorable consideration being looked for so soon as the new administrators of the national business settle down to the consideration of routine affairs of state.

Should the provincial government consent, as asked, to waive its reversionary rights in the Kitsilano reserve property,

Why Employ an Architect?

People very naturally ask themselves this question, and sometimes think they can save money by building a house from ready made plans without consulting an architect. This is a grave error. If you stop to think about it for a moment, you will readily see why. It is an exemplification of the old saying that "he who pleads his own case has a fool for a client." An architect who has devoted his life time to a study of his profession and the thousand and one details connected with design, arrangement and construction can not only give his client a stronger and more beautiful house than can possibly be obtained in a haphazard way, but he can save him hundreds of dollars on the cost. Comfort, convenience, beauty and economy are so essential to happiness that the employment of a competent and conscientious architect is as wise a step as any home builder can possibly take.

SANUKI MARU IS ADDED

Nippon Yusen Kaisha Line Places Another Steamer in the Transpacific Trade From Hongkong

SERVICE WILL SOON BE IMPROVED

New Vessels Under Construction for the Japanese Line—Some of the Steamers Have Historic Interest

The steamer Sanuki Maru has been added to the transpacific fleet. The Japanese liner which will augment the Nippon Yusen Kaisha line to six steamers will start service at the beginning of the year. The Nippon Yusen Kaisha line for many months has operated five steamers in a fortnightly service, only three of the five making the voyage through to Hongkong, the Sado Maru and Kamakura Maru ending their voyage at Kobe. With the sailing of the Sado Maru homeward in December this steamer will continue to Hongkong and the company will thereafter operate a fortnightly service to Hongkong instead of having through sailings monthly as now, with the intermediate vessels going only to Yokohama and Kobe. The new schedule, just issued from the Tokyo office of the Japanese steamship line, provides for the Sanuki Maru to follow the Tamba Maru, and she is scheduled to make her first outward trip from this port on January 27th next.

The Sanuki Maru is a steamer similar in construction and model to the Kamakura Maru, which is one of the vessels used in this service. She has been used for some time past on the line between Kobe and Formosa being operated in a weekly service with the Shinano Maru, formerly used in the service to Victoria and Seattle.

The Nippon Yusen Kaisha line has now under construction two steamers for this service at Japanese shipyards and they are expected to be ready next season to replace some of the older vessels in the transpacific line. Plans have been prepared for other vessels to follow them, and it is understood, six new steamers will be used in this service before the next year ends.

The Japanese line has been engaged in this trade for the past fifteen years having commenced the service with the steamer Miike Maru in 1896. Many steamers have been used, some of the pioneer vessels being the Yamaguchi Maru and Kinshiu Maru, which was sunk during the Russo-Japanese war off the Korean coast when being used as a transport. Several of the steamers are notable in connection with the Russo-Japanese war, when some of them were used as transports, the Shinano Maru being given a "kanjo" on account of having sighted the squadron of Rojestventsky in the Tsushima straits. The Sado Maru, which is now en route here, having sailed from Yokohama on Wednesday for this port, was badly damaged when attacked by the Russian squadron from Vladivostok when engaged in transporting troops and munitions of war from Sasebo to Dalny in 1904. The Hitachi Maru was sunk with heavy loss of life, her decks being raked by quick-firers. The Sado Maru was engaged in the same operation of transport as the Hitachi Maru, and the Russians, after torpedoing her, left her, as they supposed, in a sinking condition. But owing to the great strength of her construction she remained afloat, and was subsequently taken to Nagasaki, where, in the Mitsu-Bishi docks, she underwent thorough repair and was able to resume her place on the company's European service after the restoration of peace. The Kamakura Maru also is specially distinguished for she carried General Stoessel and his staff to Nagasaki after the fall of Port Arthur, and she also carried home General Baron Nogi and his staff on the evacuation of South Manchuria by the Japanese armies.

H.M.C.S. RAINBOW AT PRINCE RUPERT

Canadian Cruiser Visits G. T. P. Port for First Time—Went up Bute Inlet—Target Practice

H. M. C. S. Rainbow, Commander Hose, was at Prince Rupert on her first voyage so far north when the Prince George left and the citizens of the G. T. P. port were entertaining the naval visitors royally. On her way north the Rainbow made the trip right up to the head of Bute Inlet and back, anchoring at the head of the inlet for a day or two. While at the head of Bute Inlet the officers went ashore for some hunting, and succeeded in shooting three fine mountain goats, two of them with splendid heads. The skins are being preserved for the officers' quarters on the cruiser, and the heads are to be mounted.

The Rainbow put in her gun practice at the Comox ranges before going north, and some good shooting was accomplished with the six-inch guns. Six hits were made in six rounds in 55 seconds, and five hits were made in five rounds in 60 seconds. The range was about 1,500 yards and the target a canvas ten by eight feet. The cruiser steamed twelve knots an hour during the practice.

In welcoming the Rainbow to Prince Rupert Mayor Manson said the occasion was not without significance. The Rainbow was the first vessel of the newly formed Canadian navy on the Pacific coast, and he saw no reason why Prince Rupert, in due course of time, should not share with Esquimalt, in being one of the Pacific coast naval forces. The mayor called for cheers for the captain, officers and crew of the Rainbow, and these were given with a will.

Capt. Hose, speaking in behalf of his officers and men, expressed the keenest of appreciation for the hospitality of the people of Prince Rupert. He regarded the occasion as memorable, and it would be a proud privilege for anyone present, to recall, in a few years' time, that he had been present at the smoker given to the men of the Rainbow, on the ship's first visit to Prince Rupert. He had never been in western Canada before, but everywhere he went he noted the progressive and patriotic spirit. The Canadian boys taken into the service were a credit to the country. He doubted, if at the present time, any lads would be available from Prince Rupert, for the city did not have any young men to spare at the present time, but in the future he trusted that Prince Rupert would send many a youth to join the naval forces of the country. Concluding, the captain called for three cheers for the mayor and citizens of Prince Rupert, and they were given as only man-o-wars-men can cheer.

CHELOHSIN STARTS VOYAGE FROM BELFAST

New Steamer for Union Steamship Company Service on Northern Route on Way Here

The new Union Steamship Company's liner Chelohsin sailed from Belfast for Vancouver on Monday, according to a cable received at the head office of the company. She will arrive here the first week in January and will be put on the northern run together with the Boscowitz liner Venture. The vessel is in command of Capt. Starkie, who brought out the steamer Cheslakee of the same line.

The trials of the steamer on Sept. 26 were found to be most satisfactory to the company. She maintained a speed of 14¼ knots an hour for a period of eight hours at sea, and on a measured mile maintained a speed of 14½ knots, or one-quarter knot in excess of the contract speed. The vessel, which is only a little smaller than the Camosun, was designed by Mr. James Maxton of Belfast.

TASMANIAN BOUGHT BY CAPTAIN JACOBSEN

Little Steamer Built for Service on Lake Bennett Was Sold by Auction Yesterday Morning

The steamer Tasmanian was sold at auction yesterday morning by Stewart Williams at Capt. Jacobsen's wharf, Victoria West, and the little steamer was knocked down to Capt. Jacobsen for $300. There were few bidders present, the chief bidders other than the buyer being Messrs. Bittancourt and S. Goldberg of Vancouver. The Tasmanian, which has been lying idle at the wharf of the buyer for many months, was brought to these waters many years ago. She was built by Mr. Maitland Kersey when he was interested in the Klondike & Lake Bennett Steamship company and was taken north in sections and shipped over the White Pass railroad. After being used for some time on Lake Bennett the steamer was again brought over the White Pass and steamed to Victoria from Skagway. The last service in which the steamer was engaged was on the Victoria-Sooke route prior to the purchase of the lost steamer Bechelt for that run.

The British Pacific Coal company will begin shipments from its Queen Charlotte islands property during November.

Frank Hazard of Enderby is a man who sets an example in good citizenship. He is at his own expense converting the government road through his property into one of the most up-to-date highways, using his own teams and buying his own gravel in order that his particular section may enjoy repute as the best road in the district.

C.P.R.'S GREAT STEAMSHIP FLEET

Twenty-Six Vessels Under Flag Employing 12,000 Men—History of Growth in Marine Enterprise

With the addition of the Princess Alice and Queen Alexandra and the new coaster for the northern run now under construction at Paisley, to the C. P. R. fleet the total aggregate of the C. P. R. steamers will number 76 vessels, of twenty types, and these vessels, if placed in a single line, would stretch for a distance of over 3 1-2 miles. Over 12,000 men are employed in crews and shore staff and about 3,000 tons of coal are burned daily by the fleet, which if on the rails at one time, would occupy seven trains of forty trucks.

The history of the Canadian Pacific Railway company, as steamship owners, dates back for nearly a third of a century, for it was early in 1883 that the company contracted on the Clyde for the construction of three steel screw steamships, the Algoma, Alberta and the Athabasca, for service on the Great Lakes, between Owen Sound, Port Arthur and Fort William. This was made necessary by the difficulties encountered and consequent delay entailed, in the completion of that scenic section of the main line which stretches along the north shore of Lake Superior. The inauguration of this service across the Great Lakes, which is still one of the most popular and profitable of the many ramifications of the Canadian Pacific Railway, marked a distinct step towards the completion of that great highway across the Dominion, which has proved such an important factor in binding together the Canadian provinces as a nation. The Algoma was replaced in 1889 by the Manitoba, and in 1907 were added to this service the magnificent Clyde-built steamships the Assiniboia and Keewatin.

Story of Progress

Following the completion from ocean to ocean of the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1885 came the problem of finding eastbound traffic for the road, in order to avoid hauling empty cars over the mountain ranges lying between the Pacific coast and the already productive cattle ranges and wheat fields of Western Canada. The possibilities of attracting a portion of the traffic of China and Japan from the Suez Canal to the Canadian Pacific route appealed to the management, and resulted in the establishment in 1887 of the trans-Pacific service with the chartered steamships Batavia, Parthia, and Abyssinia. They remained on the route until 1891, and were replaced by the world-renowned Empresses of India, Japan, and China, which at that time set a mark for comfort, safety, regularity of service that has scarcely been equalled, and never surpassed in the history of ocean travel.

The car ferries Ontario and Michigan (very appropimately named) were built and put into service between Windsor, Ontario, and Detroit, Michigan, in 1890, at which time the Canadian Pacific Railway first became a factor in the great traffic between Chicago, the western states and the Atlantic seaboard.

The next move in the expansion of the Canadian Pacific Railway company's steam navigation interests came in 1896, when the approaching completion of the Crow's Nest branch and the growing traffic of the Kootenay, Columbia River, and Okanagan districts, led to the acquisition of the Columbia and Kootenay Navigation company, with its fleet of stern-wheel steamers, tugs and car barges. These have since been added to and improved until the British Columbia Lake and River service of the Canadian Pacific Railway is not only popular with the traveling public, but it is an alternative link in its trans-continental chain. In 1897 came the Klondyke rush and the urgent necessity for providing accommodation from Vancouver and Victoria up to Skagway and the gold fields for the rush of prospectors. To secure a portion of this business led to the purchase of the steamships Tartar and Athenian for this service. These two vessels were afterwards transferred to the trans-Pacific service, and were replaced by some of the vessels of the Canadian Pacific Navigation company, a corporation which was acquired by the Canadian Pacific Rilway company in 1903, and is now known as the British Columbia Coast Service. The ships of the fleet cover the coast from Seattle to Skagway, and are sometimes known as the "Princess" fleet. The best known of these ships are the Princess Charlotte and Princess Victoria. These magnificent steamships perform a service that is without a parallel in the history of steam navigation; that is, the triangular run between Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle, and return every twenty-four hours, a distance of 339 miles, and making three stops of approximately two hours each. At each stop they taken on board an entirely new set of passengers, and the ship is cleaned, coaled, watered and provisioned, all in the short time between speeding the parting and welcoming the incoming guests. This exacting service they perform week after week, day in and day out, with remarkable regularity.

In 1903 the Canadian Pacific Railway bought from Elder, Dempster and Co. fifteen of their largest and best steamships, and established the Atlantic services from Liverpool, Bristol (Avonmouth), and London. The following year the London service was extended to include the port of Antwerp, resulting in the building up of a large trade with the latter port, both in cargo and passengers.

The year 1906 marked the establishment of the service between Quebec and Liverpool by the superb Empresses of Ireland and Britain, which have been such a strong factor in popularising the matchless St. Lawrence route, not only among Canadians, but also among the people of the United States, especially those of the middle and western sections. These steamships, carrying a maximum of 1600 passengers of all classes, and sailing once a fortnight, since their advent to the St. Lawrence route have created so much new business that the existing lines, both the Canadian Pacific and their competitors, have experienced no falling off in their carryings.

The Monteagle was transferred from the Atlantic to the Pacific service in 1900, on which occasion the son of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, the president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, with his tutor, traveled eastward from Montreal clean round the globe on a Canadian Pacific ticket, and were on a Canadian Pacific train or ship the whole of their journey, which may have been a prediction of what the future may have in store in the extension of this company's services.

Throughout the year a fortnightly service is provided between England and Canada in both directions by the Canadian Pacific Railway's steamers Empress of Britain and Empress of Ireland. During the summer the service is between Liverpool and Quebec, and during the winter between the same English port and St. John, New Brunswick.

GOOD PROGRESS ON MARINE DEPOT

Pacific Coast Construction Company of Victoria Rushing Work at Digby Island Station.

News was brought by the steamer Prince George which returned from Prince Rupert yesterday that the Pacific Coast Construction company is making rapid strides on the erection of the marine depot for the department of marine and fisheries, and the Digby Island station, because of its delightful location, surroundings and modern improvements, bids fair to be one of the most coveted posts in Canada.

Where but a few months ago stood the primeval forest there now stands a miniature city, with all the conveniences of a metropolis, as the station can boast of its own water, sewer service, heating and lighting plant, as well as telegraphic and wireless connections.

The commanding site overlooking the harbor is occupied by the residence of the chief engineer, a commodious dwelling equipped with every modern convenience. Below it stands the double dwelling of the assistant engineers, the clerk's house, office, and men's dwelling. Other buildings occupying the flat below are the power house, with an eighty-five foot reinforced concrete chimney, the buoy shed of steel superstructure, carbide shed, machine shops, steel water tower and store.

A large concrete wharf 400 feet long by forty feet wide, built of the Pacific Coast Construction company's patent ferro-concrete piles, is now under construction. The piles are being driven braced with reinforced concrete braces. This will undoubtedly be one of the strongest, most durable and scientifically constructed wharves on the Pacific Coast. A 56-pound steel rail track will run from the buoy shed out upon the wharf for the purpose of handling the heavy buoys, etc.

The harbor of Casey Cove has been well dredged thus allowing vessels of any tonnage access to the wharf.

At a later date the place of meeting and the time of start will be made public.

application for the property will be preferred at Ottawa under the recent amendment of the Indian Act, the terms of which are in effect that in the event of reserve properties being taken over by municipal corporations, one-half of the purchase price must go to the evicted Indians, for whom also a new reserve must be provided. The remainder of the purchase money goes into the consolidated revenues of Canada.

In view of the fact that a valuation is placed upon the reserve of approximately $2,000,000, it is well realized in Vancouver that an exceedingly handsome figure must eventually be paid by the city in the event of its present representations being crowned with success. Five years ago there were twelve Indian families resident on the reserve, but this number is said to have rapidly dwindled down until at present there are but two families with permanent residence within the reservation boundaries. At certain seasons the reserve is absolutely deserted.

Although many previous councils in Vancouver have discussed tentatively the possible acquisition of the reserve, this is stated to be the first occasion upon which endeavors to secure possession have crystallized in a serious and definite proposition. The new amendment to the Indian Act has much simplified and facilitated efforts in this direction, and it is hoped in Vancouver that when the city is in a position to present its application at Ottawa there will be no friction between the national and the provincial administrations as to their respective rights. With its choice frontage on False Creek and English Bay, the much-desired reserve could be used to excellent advantage by the city, the creation of a park and bathing resort being the project for utilization at present most in favor.

In yesterday's conference with the government, Vancouver's proposals were very carefully and effectively presented by City Solicitor Hay and his colleague, the city engineer, the latter entering with much circumstantiality into the various suggested plans for the future utilization to the public advantage of the desired area, and showing himself especially closely in touch with all details affecting the question from every possible standpoint.

The fact that a letter was given to Mr. George H. Cowan, then M. P. for Vancouver, in 1909, by the provincial government, practically agreeing to the waiving of reversionary rights as now proposed, is naturally strongly quoted by Vancouver's representatives, although a similar arrangement with Victoria with respect to the Songhees reserve was at that time also expressed in an official communication, the contents of which it has been necessary for the government since to set aside in view of the great cost and difficulty involved in the eventual settlement of the Songhees reserve question.

The outcome of yesterday's conference on Kitsilano reserve matters was a promise on behalf of Vancouver's representatives to send to the government promptly a memorandum setting forth in detail the position, requests and intentions of the city, which memorandum will be given careful consideration and a decision rendered upon the incidental application.

School Assistance.

The deputation on school matters from the Terminal City included Trustees Dr. W. D. Brydone-Jack, Messrs. W. H. P. Clubb, Fred W. Dyke, W. E. Flumerfelt, Thomas Duke, J. D. Breeze, Superintendent W. P. Argue, Assistant Superintendent Stewart, Mr. C. H. Murray, are board secretary, Mr. J. J. Miller and Mr. Frank Tremble representing the section until recently forming D. L. 301; and Messrs. McBeth and Frank Woodside, for what was until lately Hastings Townsite. Their request is, shortly, that the provincial government give $100,000 toward the fund for the erection of new school buildings in what is still known as "301," and also grant several pieces of land from the government holdings in Hastings Townsite, comprising approximately thirty acres, with a value of an additional $150,000, this land to be subsequently sold and the proceeds applied for the purposes of new schools.

It is claimed that at present the holdings of the Vancouver school board in the old D. L. 301 and Hastings Townsite are extremely limited and will by no means permit of the erection of necessary and suitable buildings providing adequately for the expected growth in the lately annexed districts. All the Vancouver members in the local house have been strongly urged to support the application for special aid, and the visitors to the capital yesterday were happily introduced by Mr. H. H. Watson, M. P. P.

Incidentally it may be said, as the Vancouverites yesterday emphasized, that no arrangements were possible in respect to making provision for the school needs of the D. L. 301 and Hastings Townsite sections in connection with the last municipal elections, in Vancouver, these sections at that time not having been made parts of the city by the adoption of the requisite bylaws during the following March. On the other hand, it is pointed out that, with respect to the desired granting by the government of lands in Hastings Townsite to be subsequently dealt with by the Vancouver authorities, there is no enabling provision in existent legislation.

The entire matters involved will receive the early and serious consideration of the Executive, and an answer forwarded the Vancouverites specially interested at the earliest possible date.

Public opinion in the Okanagan is said to strongly favor one Central Okanagan exhibition in two or three years.

Judgment in favor of the railway company has been given by Mr. Justice Murphy in the suit for $3,500, brought by the Columbia Taxi Cab company, of Vancouver against the B. C. E. R. Co., as a result of an accident in which a taxi cab was demolished by a street car in February last.

BRISK BIDDING IN FINAL HOUR

Quotations on Stock Exchange Sent Above Closing Range of Previous Day—U. S. Steel Under Pressure

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—A spirited bidding up of prices in the last hour of trading on the stock exchange today carried quotations to a point well above the final range of the previous day. The movement was the only one of importance of a listless day. Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Lehigh Valley, Northern Pacific, American Smelting and American Beet Sugar rose to a point or more above yesterday's close on the upturn, and Reading, which had been the conspicuous weak feature of the market, recovered its loss.

Profit-taking sales just before the close reduced these gains somewhat. United States Steel was still under pressure. In the last upturn it rose less proportionately than other market leaders, and it was the first to yield when profit-taking sales were begun. Despite the denial of the attorney general that a suit against the United States Steel corporation has been prepared and the statement of the corporation's heads that its operations were within the law, there exists a widespread feeling that the government sooner or later will endeavor to establish more clearly the status of the largest combination in the country.

American Tobacco 4 per cent. bonds rose to 90, the highest price for the movement, which represented a gain of 15 per cent. Buying of these bonds was stimulated by reports that the plan of reorganization had been changed in such a way as to benefit holders of these securities.

Bonds were strong. Total sales (par value) $5,710,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

"TRAMP NUISANCE"

Vancouver Police Commission Provides Some New Tasks for Attorney General Bowser

The well known predilection of Attorney General Bowser for something to do is evidently thoroughly understood in his own city of Vancouver, which has within the past day or two presented two new tasks for his consideration.

In the first case he is appealed to by the members of the Vancouver police commission to devise some special measures for the elimination of the "tramp nuisance," an evil attaining serious proportions along the main line of the C.P.R. out of Vancouver, and also in the territory between that city and the Washington boundary line. It is pointed out by the applicants for the attorney general's aid in this matter, that the tramps from "the other side" are a serious menace to the safety of life and property on the Lower Mainland, and upon reaching the towns and cities, accentuate the difficulty of preventing minor and even major crime.

Making preparation [illegible]

The secondary application just received by Hon. Mr. Bowser comes from the Vancouver police commission also, and is in effect for his official consent to the invocation of the Sunday Observance act of Canada for the prosecution of Sunday vendors of fruits, tobacco, etc.

This heinous offence is stated to be of open occurrence in the neighbor city.

Men's Clothing Offers Big Bargains For Friday

$3.50 BOYS' SUITS AT $1.75

This is our method of cleaning out our odd lines. We have to economize our space, consequently we occasionally make these heavy cuts to dispose of oddments at a very short notice.

These suits are made of heavy tweeds in Norfolk styles. There are 48 suits in all, in sizes from 26 to 29, and come in colors dark and medium shades of brown and green mixtures, are well tailored and, judging by the number that we have sold at the regular price, are well worth $3.50. But on Friday we will clean out the balance of the stock at $1.75.

MEN'S SUITS AT $15.00—WORTH $18.00

Don't make a mistake, this is not a line that has been reduced, but a special shipment that we secured at a big price concession, and when we say that they are worth $18 we consider that we are making a very conservative estimate.

This is a fine chance for young men. The suits are smart and right up to date in cut and style, are splendidly tailored, and come in heavy tweeds, in browns and grey mixtures, also Bannockburn mixtures, in all the newest patterns.

You make a distinct saving on your suit if you purchase on Friday. Let us show them to you—the goods will recommend themselves. Notice the Price—$15.00.
